LATEST PREMIER AT VLADIVOSTOK GIVES PROGRAM

Restoration Of Order Is Primary Task, He Announces

COMMUNISTS OUT OF IT

Freedom Of Press Guaranteed —Old Legislators Will Escape

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, May 29.—M. Merkuloff, Head of the new Government of the Maritime Province, has issued a statement of policy, of which the main points are as follows:

The primary task of the new Government will be to restore order in the country.

The composition of the Administration will depend on the people's will. The Popular Assembly will remain, but minus the Communists; its legislative powers will stand unaltered.

Members of the late Administration will secure their liberty, except those who are liable to prosecution on criminal charges.

Freedom of the press is guaranteed.

M. Merkuloff states that he considers Ataman Semenoff's authority to be unacceptable to the masses, and that therefore such authority will not be established.

General Verjbitzky, who has assumed command of the Kappel troops, announces that he and his army stand for democracy, and that in maintaining order in the district they will merely execute the orders of the Government. No military dictatorship is premeditated, General Verjbitzky declares. The overthrow of the Communists at Nikolsk-Ussurisk, adds the General, was carried out without bloodshed, or excesses. No arrests were effected, the Militia surrendering without fighting.

Vladivostok is gaily beflagged with the Russian National Tricolor, replacing the Bolshevik red banners.

Most of the late Militia have fled to the hills with their arms. The remaining Bolshevik forces have been disarmed by the Japanese.

Grodekovo has notified its allegiance to the new Priamur Government.

TO FIGHT UNGERN

According to advices from Chita, the Moscow Soviet has announced that it will take over the defence of the Irkutsk and Baikal regions against Baron Ungern, "so as to allow Chita to concentrate all its forces on resisting the anti-Communist peril in the Russian Far East."

Vladivostok, May 30.—The territory of the new Government at present extends to Spassk and Grodekovo.

A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution to the effect that the recent events are the outcome of the Communist methods of the Chita Government and the late local administration, which have driven the population to desperation and ruin; that the past and present record of the Kappel troops proves their genuine democracy, and hence also that of the present temporary Government based on their support, and that therefore the Chamber recognises the latter.

Harbin, May 27.—According to a despatch from Chita, the Red Command has applied to the army indicating the seriousness of the position in the Maritime Provinces, and calling the men to be ready to defend the Revolution in the event of civil war recommencing.

It is reported that the situation in the region of Blagoveschensk has become most acute. The local authorities, it is stated, have declined to obey the Government's order calling on them to proceed with preliminary steps for summoning a regional Popular Assembly, on the ground that a pro-election campaign might easily lead to risings and even insurrections among the troops.

(Dalta News Agency)

Peking, May 27.—Reports from the Maritime Province regarding the events of the last few days there show that the whole trouble arises from Japanese influence, carried out through Semenoff, and these reports show very plainly that the Kappelist troops were not connected in any way with the attempt to overthrow the government.

A wire from Nikolsk, verified by the Political Commissar, Mr. Slinkin, by the Chief of the Nikolsk Garrison, Mr. Nechayev, by the Chief of the Nikolsk Militia, Mr. Kerabovsky, by the Acting Mayor of Nikolsk, Mr. Bogoliubov, and by Mr. Revisarzon,

Hughes, Australian Premier, Reiterates Views On Jap Pact

(Reuter's Service)

Toulon, May 29.—Mr. Hughes, Prime Minister of Australia, in the course of an interview with a Reuter's representative, referring to the Anglo-Japanese Treaty, declared that neither Japan, America nor Great Britain wanted war. Australia, he said, certainly did not intend to do anything which might lead to war.

The growing importance of the Pacific, and its tremendous future demanded that the white nations represented there should live in amity and pursue a common policy. Australia would not be a party to any treaty or arrangement that might endanger friendship with the United States, but there was no reason why the Anglo Japanese Treaty should upset that friendship. If America were a party to the Treaty so much the better. It would certainly check armament competition, which was a curse to civilisation and one of the principal causes of war, concluded Mr. Hughes.

Toulon, May 28.—Mr. W. M. Hughes, the Australian Prime Minister, has arrived here. He is proceeding by liner to Plymouth, where he is due to arrive on June 3.

He is postponing his visit to France till July 14, when he will present Amiens with a flag made by the bereaved women of Australia, and will invite M. Clemenceau to visit Australia.

Receiving pressmen on board the Orvieto, Mr. Hughes said that Australia realised the great importance of the Imperial Cabinet discussions in June. It was indispensable that British foreign policy should be conducted by the British Empire in perfect agreement with the Dominions, and not merely by Great Britain.

The fact that the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty had been submitted to the opinion of the Dominions showed that this was well understood. Australia favored the Japanese Treaty, as she did everything which would assure the peace of the world. She was consequently quite ready to approach the problem of national defence, Mr. Hughes declared.

BISHOP GRAVES SPEAKER

Col. R. Marr Johnson And Staff Present At Exercises At Cemetery

In observance of Memorial Day Americans of Shanghai yesterday paid tribute to the memory of the nation's soldier and sailo rdead. Though the skies were leaden and a fine mist was falling many spectators were out to see the military parade and a representative gathering was present at Bubbling Well Cemetery where the Memorial Day exercises were held. The observance of the day and the decoration of the graves of sailors and soldiers at Bubbling Well Cemetery were under the direction of the American Company of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps, commanded by Maj. S. A. Ransom.

The military parade started from the Race Course shortly after 8 o'clock in the morning. It was led by the band of the U. S. S. Huron which was followed by the American Company of the Volunteer Corps and a battalion of sailors and marines from American warcraft in port. At the end of the march the avenue leading to the Chapel of the cemetery was lined by marines and sailors. Representing Great Britain Col. R. Marr Johnson, Commandant of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps and his staff were present. Mr. E. S. Cunningham, American Consul-General was Master of Ceremonies.

PRAYER OPENS SERVICE

The service was opened with prayer by the Rev. George Fitch and this was followed by the Memorial Day address by Bishop F. R. Graves. The Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. A. P. Parker. Taps were sounded by the bugler of the U. S. S. Huron and the three volleys were fired by the American Company of the Volunteer Corps.

In a brief address Mr. Cunningham referred to the fact that the observance of Memorial Day for many years had been carried out by Major Ransom and the American Company and said that the entire community was grateful to them for this service. He expressed the hope they would continue in future years to direct the observance of the day.

Referring to the presence of Col. R. Marr Johnsom and his staff the American Consul-General voiced the appreciation of Americans at the participation of British representatives in the observance. Mr. Cunningham also extended thanks to the American soldiers and sailors present for their part in the observance.

GERMANY PAYS 1,000,000,000 GOLD MARKS DUE MAY 5

Treasury Drafts, Endorsed By Bankers, Sent To Commission

"STILL ARE UNCONVINCED"

"Frankfurter Anzeiger" Says Teutons Are "Unconscious Of Defeat"

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, May 29.—Treasury drafts, endorsed by the leading German banks, representing the balance of the 1,000,000,000 gold marks demanded by the Allies on May 5, and which was to have been paid by May 31, have been despatched to the Reparations Commission.

Berlin, May 25.—The "Frankfurter Anzeiger," commenting on the present situation, declares that the Germans are as yet unconscious of the fact that Germany is anquished and deprived of her strength, and that she can only rise again by acceding to the terms of the Peace Treaty.

London, May 29.—The present negotiations between Paris and London deal with the question of the meeting of the Supreme Council. Great Britain desires an early meeting, while France urges that a committee of Allied experts, jurists, soldiers and diplomatists, should examine every detail of the Silesian question before the Supreme Council assembles. Meanwhile, Great Britain is urging a scheme for the creation of three zones in Upper Silesia, to be occupied by Poles, Germans and Allied Forces respectively.

Paris, May 25.—M. Briand's speech in the Chamber yesterday has created an excellent impression, as the expression of a methodical, firm and moderate policy, calculated to restore the general peace of Europe. It is also regarded as a great victory for the policy of close unity between Britain and France.

In the Chamber today, M. Noblemaire, while rejoicing at the fact of the friendship between the two countries, urged that whereas the Peace Treaty had given Great Britain entire satisfaction, France, who had displayed the same gallantry, and borne much heavier burdens, was still awaiting the reparation that was her due.

London, May 28.—The first British detachments have arrived in Upper Silesia, and were warmly welcomed.

Paris, May 28.—The French Government today sent the British Foreign Office a note suggesting the advisability of not settling the Upper Silesian question immediately, and proposing that the preliminary consideration of the partition question should be entrusted to experts.

Censorship Asked On Russian Letters

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, May 28.—The commandant of the Peking Garrison has suggested to the Waichiaopu that, in view of the amount of propaganda carried on in China by reactionary Russians in the Russian language through the mail services, letters should be subjected to censorship. It is reported that, as the result of this communication, three Chancellors of the Waichiaopu, Messrs. Wang Chih-hsiang, Wang Chih-chun and Fan Chi-liang, have been posted to the Peking stations of the Suaiyuan, Hankow and Mukden railways, with instructions to examine all Russian letters.

LEGISLATION THREATENED FOR ENDING COAL STRIKE

Lloyd George Delivers Ultimatum To Miners

NO PROFIT POOL

Workers' Demand Not Open To Arbitration, Says Premier

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 28.—Mr. Lloyd George met the Miners' Executive this morning. The conference lasted an hour and a half.

It is understood the Prime Minister told the miners that unless an agreement between the parties were reached, legislation would be introduced to enforce a settlement by arbitration.

The miners said they adhered to their demand for a national profits pool, which has been the stumbling block to a settlement up to the present.

Mr. Lloyd George said this was not a matter for consideration, either now or by arbitration.

After the miners, the Prime Minister met the coal-owners.

The Government's proposals as submitted by Mr. Lloyd George to the miners and the coal-owners this morning are identical with those outlined in his speech at the Board of Trade yesterday, as regards a temporary arrangement, while as regards a permanent settlement, the Prime Minister stated that since it was plain that the parties were unable to agree to terms of an arrangement for a continued period the matter must be decided by one of three methods, either (1) the establishment of a national wages board, on which the coal-owners and miners would be equally represented, with a neutral chairman; (2) the establishment of a tribunal of three persons to decide the dispute, or, (3) reference of the dispute to a single arbitrator. The determining body must report within two months.

The Miners' Executive has decided to submit the Government's proposals to the districts. No arrangements have been made for a conference between the miners and coal-owners.

Washington, May 28.—Senator King told the Senate he had been informed that the electric drive system adopted in American warships had failed badly in the case of the Super-Dreadnought Tennessee. Senator Poindexter replied that, while the motors had burned out twice, the defects had been remedied, and that the Tennessee would sail this week to join the Pacific Fleet.

Coolies In India Quit Tea Plantations

Rain Hampers Start Of Far East Championships

BY ARTHUR WEST

Some day, if this old world continues to travel its accustomed course through space, there will arise a genius who will win a battle against an opponent who has never yet been challenged, let alone defeated, in the umpteen million years since the eventful day that a gob of hot lava skipped away from the old Solar homestead and became, eventually, the terrestial sphere on the surface of which some millions of human creatures strive with varying success to pound out an honest living.

This genius, as yet unborn, will achieve a great fame and a greater personal satisfaction. He will win fame through his ability to instill athletic prowess and the spirit of rivalry and competition into a lot of plain, ordinary, garden variety of ducks; ducks of the sort which in this undeveloped age are fit only for quacking and waddling and for compounding soup. Some day this forthcoming genius will assemble, at great pains and expense, several hundred of these big muscled and high spirited Mallards for their annual championship games—the Duck Olympiad—and on that day it will rain.

Sketch in the rest of the picture yourself. In your mind's eye can't you just see this Duck impressario of the future hustling about on the day of the championships, seeing to it that the various events are run off as scheduled, and occasionally pausing to glance upward through the blinding sheets or the soggy mists or through whatever form the descending dampness may assume on that occasion, and chuckling: "Hop to it, Jupe, old Kid! Shoot the whole works and see if we care!"

MOVED—AND CARRIED

It has been moved that on that day—the day that this future genius can pull off an outdoor athletic championship without the slightest trace of disappointment when J. Pluvius opens the faucets—he will experience a feeling of great personal satisfaction.

Are there any dissenters?

Ab-so-pos-i-tive-ly none!

All the foregoing utilises a lot of valuable space to say that it rained yesterday—the opening day of the Far Eastern Athletic championships—and that a damp and soggy time was had by all present at Hongkew park.

At that, our old friend Jupe did not score a complete victory, for the athletic events, with three exceptions, were run off as scheduled, only the basket ball game, the javelin throw and the pole vault being postponed. The officials, it is true, were pretty thoroughly saturated before the party was over, but then nobody was ever known to cherish very tender feelings toward officials at track meets anyway. For one thing there's always so many of them that nobody else can see what is going on unless he happens to have a seat in the top row of the grandstand, and for another thing they're everlasting!y chowing the rag over something that should have been settled seven months before.

As to the results from an athletic standpoint, a glance at the pink section of today's CHINA PRESS will reveal that the boys from the Philippines rather got the jump on the field, qualifying 28 out of a possible 45 in the track and field events, against 11 for Japan and 6 for China. In addition the Filipino football and volley ball teams defeated those of Japan, the score of the football game being 3 to 1, and of the volley ball game 2 to 0. In the volley ball game the point score were 21 to 4 and 21 to 0.

JAPANESE LONG WINDED

The Japanese milers, however, made some hay while the sun shunned and shirked and lallygagged and did everything else except shine. In this event, which was a final, the sturdy representatives of Nippon gobbled all four places for a total of 9 points. In this victory the Japanese runners left no doubt as to their ability in the distance events, finishing far in front, the fourth man to finish being almost half a lap ahead of the next competitor. In the swimming events the Japanese web-foots qualified 14, the Philippines 10 and China 0. It was a swell day for swimming.

The setting at Hongkew park was beautiful, or would have been if the rain makers had refrained from persistent efforts to bust up the party.

Previous to calling the athletes from their matsheds there were several speeches by government officials in frock coats and two gallon hats, with Dr. C. T. Wang acting as master of seremonies. All the speakers emphasised the value of the athletic championships as a means of increasing and cementing international comity and good fellowship. The speechifying was followed by a parade of all the assembled athletes, accompanied by the blaring of bands and the scurrying of boy and girl scouts.

Finally, at four o'clock, the sprinters were called out and everything was ready for the start— or would have been if somebody had possessed the forethought to provide a pistol for the starter, a pistol being as essential for conducting a track meet as a bride for a wedding, or cabbage for corned beef. Finally, after a coolie had been sent to the city hall for a gun and a licence for using it—details that should have been attended to a year ago—the heels of the athletes began to kick up the dust, or rather, the mud.

—and the worst is yet to come, as Father Froc, who rains over the local weather bureau, ducked into his grab bag last night and fished out this: "For tomorrow—rain and mist."

Wot, we ask you, could be wotter?

JAP 'DUMMY' PERSONATING PRINCE, SAYS NEWSPAPER

'Church Times,' Of London, Makes Amazing 'Suggestion'

PHOTOS HOLD UP

Wide Publication Is Given To Rumor In England

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 30.—A grotesque suggestion is made in the Church Times, and has gained wider circulation by publication in the Daily Herald, to the effect that the Japanese Crown Prince never left Japan, but was personated by somebody else, in consequence of the powerful opposition, headed by the military and bureaucrats, to the Crown Prince's proceeding to Europe.

The Church Times says that "among those in England who have known Japan there is a growing feeling that the present visitor is not the actual Crown Prince at all." Color is supposed to be lent to this absurd suggestion by the alleged fact that, some time before the visitor left, the Japanese police withdrew from sale all photographs of the Crown Prince.

Prior to his departure, the Crown Prince sent to the Lord Mayor a donation of £1,000 for London charities.

London, May 29.—The Japanese Crown Prince today brought to a close his visit to Great Britain, which has proved highly successful.

In a farewell message to the British people, the Crown Prince says: "Before living the hospitable shores of Britain, I desire to express my gratification at the cordiality with which I have everywhere been received. Their gracious Majesties, the King and Queen, have shown me such especial marks of their kindness and hospitality that my visit to their London home will ever be a cherished memory.

A member of the Crown Prince's suite, interviewed by Reuter, expressed the opinion that the visit had left an indelible and happy impression on Prince Hirohito, whose anticipations have been more than realised.

London, May 29.—The Weekly Dispatch understands that Crown Prince Hirohito has invited the Prince of Wales to visit Japan next Spring.

London, May 30.—The newspapers publish sympathetic articles, accompanied by interesting illustrations, on the occasion of the farewell of the Japanese Crown Prince. The Times remarks that "Japan is fortunate in having been able to send to Europe a Prince so gifted with all the requisites for success on such an occasion. His Majesty, in bidding farewell to Prince Hirohito, represented the nation's warm goodwill towards the Japanese heir to the throne."

Italian Army Mission In Paris

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, May 29.—An Italian military mission, comprising General Albricci and numerous officers who took part in the operations on the French front in 1918, arrived in Paris on Saturday, together with a company of the 89th Regiment of Infantry, a unit which particularly distinguished itself in the Champagne fighting. The mission was welcomed by M. Rivet (Senator, and President of the Franco-Italian League), General Lebouco (representing the Minister of War), and Count Bonin Longare (Italian Ambassador), and was afterwards received by President Millerand.

At the Bligny military cemetery today, General Albricci laid the foundation-stone of a monument to the memory of the Italian heroes who fell in France.

MURDER OF TITLED GERMAN SEEN IN DEATH OF CLERK

Victim Of Tragedy Believed To Be Member Of Noted Von Buelow Family

BODY FOUND AT ROADSIDE

Money Missing From 'Henry Buehler's Secret Pocket Leads To Investigation

Atlantic City, N. J., May 1.—The apparently obscure victim of a traumatic death here last Thursday, at first believed to have been an accident, now seems to have been a member of the Von Buelow family of Germany and to have been the prey in a deliberate murder plot.

Working on this theory, E. C. Gaskill, County Prosecutor, tonight assigned his whole staff to the case after the police had finished working back over a trail that grew cold in the days when there was no hint of a criminal element in the affair. The prosecutor has announced his belief that the man either was decoyed to the lonely edge of this resort where his skull was smashed, or that he was murdered indoors and carried in an automobile to a point far from his scene of the crime, where it would appear he had been struck by a vehicle.

The immediate, though tentative, motive which furnishes a hypothesis for the official theory of murder is robbery. It is based upon the fact that hundreds, if not thousands, of dollars that the man is believed to have carried in a secret inside vest pocket, are missing. Of at least collateral importance, however, are strange revelations regarding the man's history, which in the end may serve to illuminate the circumstances of his death from a new angle.

EXILED BY RELATIVES

It has been learned that the victim—best known here as Henry Buehler—was driven out of Germany by some distant relative, understood by his friends to have been one of the war-like von Buelows, because a clubfoot prevented him from playing such a part in the military life of the Fatherland as befitted a member of the family which included such members as Prince Bernhard von Buelow, former Imperial Chancellor and Ambassador to Italy and Field Marshal von Buelow commander of the Second German Army during the war.

Shamed and humiliated when he was cast off, the man, whether he was Henry Buehler or "Count Heinrich von Buelow" or "Henry von Tickler," all of which names have been mentioned by his friends here, came to America perhaps twenty-six years ago and earned a living in various hotels. Until the entrance of this country into the war he was a remittance man, getting a check periodically from the old country through the German Ambassador at Washington.

He was known as a lavish spender and a man of inoffensive, almost shrinking habits, confiding only to a few intimates the history of the pain inflicted upon him of his physical deformity. So, when last Thursday morning the first crew to take a trolley from Atlantic City to Ocean City found a body twenty feet from the track at the north end of Tennessee Avenue it was identified as that of Henry Buelow, supply clerk of the St. Charles Hotel, no one doubted that an accident had put an end to an unhappy life.

REGISTERED AS AN ALIEN

It was found that the man had been registered here as an alien enemy in wartime and had gone about his business unmolested and apparently unconcerned with the struggle between this country and his own.

The skull was badly crushed but the body otherwise showed no manifest signs of violence. Inquiry among car crews gave no evidence of a trolley having struck the man and the police reached the conclusion he had been hit by an automobile, whose driver had fled after the accident.

Then, when the case seemed closed, Stephen Lenz, a tailor told detectives Buelow always carried a large sum of money—never less than $500—in a secret inside vest pocket. Examination was made of the clothes at the local undertakers. The pocket had been ripped open. It was empty. The clothes had been handled by so many persons it no longer was possible to get useful fingerprints from them.

The investigation set in motion upon discovery of the apparently rifled pocket soon developed that Buelow's last deposit of $600 had been made in January. As supply clerk of the St. Charles Hotel on the Boardwalk, he had earned $250 a month. Other friends backed Lenz in insisting that it never was his custom to spend all he had or to be without a little fortune to be used in some over-impending emergency, the nature of which his associates could not even surmise.

Experts Split On Site For Bartholome's New Statue

Huge War Masterpiece Of France's Master Sculptor Starts Art Fight As To Whether It Shall Be Erected In Tuilleries Or Elsewhere

Paris, May 1.—Paris is in the midst of another hard fight over the advisability of changing the perspective from the Tuilleries to the Arc de Triomphe by the erection of a huge statue called "France, 1914-1918," which has just been accepted from M. Bartholome, who is considered to be France's master sculptor. His statue is more than twenty-five feet high, and it is proposed to erect it just behind the famous central fountain in the Tuilleries Garden. In fact M. Bartholome says it will go there or nowhere.

Geometricians, however, got out their compasses and rules and tried to show that except to a dwarf standing in the Tuilleries or a giant standing at the Arc de Triomphe, the perspective would be altered to the depreciation of French art standards. The Minister of Fine Arts was then called in to decide the question, but it was referred to a plebiscite in which several score of French architects should vote. These architects are now divided into two bitterly argumentative factions, the anti-Bartholomites, going so far as to suggest that there are too many statues in the Tuilleries anyway, saying: "Let us plant trees instead of stones in the world's greatest garden."

Mixed Court Jottings

An inquest was begun yesterday over the body of a Chinese who was struck by a motor car on Ferry Road last Friday. The hearing was adjourned pending the return to Shanghai of Captain S. S. Walker, of the Shuntien, who was riding in the car at the time of the accident. The car was being driven by a Chinese chauffeur.

A chauffeur appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday charged with reckless driving on the Nanking Road Sunday, when his car swerved off the roadway and, carrying a pedestrian on the radiator, crashed through the windows of a foodshop at No. 536. The charge was dismissed when it was shown that the chauffeur had turned to avoid striking the pedestrian and the wheels skidded on the tramline, making the accident unavoidable. The pedestrian was not badly injured.

A prisoner in the Mixed Court House of Detention who was discovered in possession of an opium pipe and opium had another week added to his sentence yesterday.

Three men accused of being members of an organised band of armed robbers were charged yesterday and remanded for a hearing next week.

A Chinese dairy keeper who was fined $60 only last month for adulterating milk, reappeared in court yesterday on account of further indiscretion in this line. A health department inspector stated that a test of the output of the dairy showed an absence of 16.60 percent in fats. The defendant pleaded that he only had three cows and did a very small business, so when a foreigner came to him and put in an order to be supplied with butter he was compelled to rob the best of the customers of a certain amount of cream. A fine of $100 was imposed.

Smuggle Gold From Austria To Germany

Vienna, April 30.—Daily smuggling episodes are occurring along the Austro-German frontier, over which huge sums of gold are passing into Germany. The latest arrests include three Englishmen and one English girl, one of the men giving the name of William Germain and asserting that he is a correspondent of the Manchester Guardian. His luggage bore the official seals of British missions.

Another man arrested said his name was Henry Rappard. He pretended that he was a Swiss Government messenger. He was said to have carried £45 in gold.

Compradore Accused Of Misappropriation Through Coal Deals

Charges of misappropriation of Tls. 70,000 were brought against a Chinese merchant, Yui Shing-kyi, by the Japanese firm of Furusho & Co., 8 Siking Road, at the Mixed Court yesterday.

Mr. H. C. Mei, appearing for the complainants, declared that the accused had taken delivery orders for shipments of coal and had negotiated them as chattel mortgages at various banks. He said that the entire amount of coal ran to half a million taels and that further actions would be filed later. There was one Japanese agent who was in the conspiracy, counsel said, and action had already been brought against him in the Japanese Court. He asked for a remand and for injunctions against the Bank of China, the Yung Sung Bank and the Yung Kee Coal Co., who advanced the Tls. 70,000, restraining them from dealing with the mortgages.

Mr. R. T. Bryan, for the defendant, said that his client was compradore of a British firm and alleged that the present criminal suit was brought for the purpose of putting pressure upon him. He declared that the defendant had been arrested without a warrant, after he had been invited to the complainant's house for tiffin and detained there by force. He contended that the Japanese firm was indebted to Yui for an amount greater than that involved in the action.

The Court ordered that the banks and coal company be restrained from dealing with the delivery orders and that they furnish the court with a report of the extent and number of the mortgages within 48 hours. Since British and Japanese interests were involved the proper authorities were to be notified and the case will be heard by Magistrate and Assessors at the earliest possible moment.

Chinese Troops Unpaid, Returning

(Staff Wire To The China Press)

Peking, May 30.—Because they have no further desire to remain unpaid at the front, 2,000 Chinese troops from Pengchang, 200 miles north of Kalgan, are returning towards Kalgan, according to information just received from Kalgan. It is definitely understood that the forces are not retiring on account of any threatened Mongolian advances, as the Mongols themselves have considered their job finished.

While Kalgan is not excited, business there is dead.

TOURISTS TO FIND MANY CHANGES IN EUROPEAN TRAVEL

France Expects Every Visitor To Pay A Tax From 2½ To 6 Francs

RHINE NOT ATTRACTIVE

England Has Plenty Of Rooms And Police Restrictions Are Relaxed

Paris, April 30 — American tourists visiting Paris this year will be called on to pay a special tourist tax of 2½ to 6 francs a day if a bill which has been presented in the Chamber is passed, and it appears more than likely that it will be.

The bill is being fostered by the Paris Municipal Council, which expects to obtain 100,000,000 francs from the visitors' tax, which is to be applied for three months, just as in the fashionable Riviera, west coast and inland resorts.

But even this measure is not as radical as the charges in Germany, where the hotel bills of foreigners still are being trebled to overcome exchange depression.

GERMAN TRAVEL DIFFICULT

Berlin, April 30. — American tourists who come to Germany this summer will find conditions of travel far less attractive than in pre-war times. In Hamburg and Berlin hotel facilities are constantly overtaxed by business men and even persons who have telegraphed days in advance for accommodations are turned away by the first class hotels. If foreigners are assigned to rooms they pay far more than is charged to Germans.

Conditions along the Rhine are not especially inviting for tourists. The larger places are overtaxed by the occupying armies, and it is almost impossible for outsiders to get first class hotel accommodations. Cologne, Coblenz and Mayence are filled to overflowing by British, American and French officers, respectively. Most of the hotels are under control of the military and cannot be used by civilians unless they have authorisation from commanding officers. Police registration is very strict and permits must be obtained to enter and leave various areas.

In South Germany conditions are more inviting to pleasure seekers. Dresden and Munich are not so filled with business men and the better hotels are usually able to provide tourists with rooms at rates much lower than in Berlin and Hamburg.

The passport problem is annoying even within Germany's own boundaries. For example, it is necessary for a tourist going from Berlin to Bavaria to have the visa of the Bavarian legation in Berlin. This precaution has been taken by Bavaria to prevent Red agitators from invading their territory from Berlin..

Bread cards are necessary to get bread in dining cars and hotels, and most of the bread served is heavy and black.

In the smaller cities and villages the tourists will find living conditions much the same as they were before the war. Americans motoring through Germany or travelling on trains are courteously treated. There is no longer any disposition to resent the use of the English language.

It is almost impossible under present conditions for tourists to travel on a fixed schedule in Central Europe, especially if their trip necessitates the crossing of boundaries. Passport offices are frequently crowded. Much time is lost in getting visas and trains have interminable waits at customs stations.

Through trains are now operating between Paris and Warsaw, which makes the rail trip to Poland and the Baltic States far easier than it has been since the armistice. Trains will soon be run from Berlin to Riga, Latvia. Barring passport annoyances, travel is almost normal between Berlin and Prague and Berlin and Vienna. There are no fast boat trains now between Berlin and Hamburg and Berlin and Bremen, such as existed before the war.

The great German steamship lines co-operating with American lines now operate touring companies of their own which are prepared to conduct parties throughout Germany at a fixed price, including hotel accommodations, railway fares, guides and carriages. The rates are higher than before the war, even taking the favorable American exchange into consideration.

LONDON EXPECTS MANY

London, April 30.—First signs of spring in England have spurred the transportation companies and the tourist agencies into a fever of expectancy. Visitors from the United States are promised much in the way of accommodations, with conditions approximating those in pre-war days prevailing. Hotels and pensions again will have plenty of rooms on comparatively short notice, and passport ceremonies are shortened.

Police restrictions in the British Isles also are relaxed, registration being required only if a visitor intends to remain more than sixty days, and railway facilities are greatly improved in schedules and travel accommodations.

Tourist agencies are quite frank in admitting that only the well to do are financially able to bear the expense of travel at present when a first class cabin ticket costs approximately $250 one way. They say the tourist traffic last year was practically without the large numbers of school teachers and professional people who came to Europe formerly to spend the summer weeks in travel and study. These folks, they say, cannot pay the prices it is necessary to charge to make the tourist business pay, and there are no signs now that travel will be cheaper in the near future.

However, indications are, it is said, that more tourists will want to see Europe in 1921 than can be handled, in spite of the high cost of living. In this connection, the advantage Americans have in view of the favorable exchange is pointed out.

CARTHY'S FEAT PRAISED

Italian Inventor Predicts Great Commercial Advantages From Plan

London, April 30.—Guglielmo Marconi, the inventor, returned to Italy this week to devote all his time to perfecting the wireless telephone with a view to making it possible to communicate between Europe and the United States. Before he left London Maroni said he was certain such communications would be possible in the near future. He was enthusiastic over the demonstrations made by Col. John J. Carthy in long distance telephoning.

"Col. Carthy's achievement was a great one in so far as ordinary telephony goes," Mr. Marconi said to The New York Herald correspondent here. "However, the wireless part of it was only over a distance of twenty miles, and that is nothing. If it had been 2,900 miles it would interest me. The demonstration was said to prove that it is possible to telephone—by wire, of course—from London to India and, perhaps, the Cape.

"I say that is quite true, but you would have to overcome the difficulties in connection with maintaining a telephone wire over that distance. Very long wires that go across wild or disturbed countries are liable to be broken. To telephone to India it would be necessary to have a wire that went from France or Belgium through Central Europe, through Hungary, the Balkans, Turkey, Asia Minor and Persia. It could not go by way of the Mediterranean, because telephony will not work through a cable of any great length.

NO PHONES TO AFRICA

"If a wire went to South Africa, it would have to go through France and Spain and across the Strait of Gibraltar, where the cable would not be too long, and along the whole of Africa to the Cape. I do not think that would be practicable in the present state of the world.

"The alternative is wireless telephony. That has been developed, but I do not think that at present it is capable of going these long distances, although a few words have been got through from England to America and from America to France.

"Since ordinary telephony will not work through long cables, this achievement in America does not bring the solution of the problem any nearer, in so far as telephony across the ocean is concerned.

"I am starting from here this week for Italy, where I will embark aboard my yacht, the Electra, on board which I purpose to carry on wireless telephony experiments between points in the Mediterranean and England.

"Good speech has already been obtained by wireless telephony between London and Rome. Wireless telephony is not, however, commercially ready yet and the object of my experiments will be to overcome the difficulties that remain.

HOPES TO TALK TO U. S.

"I think we can get wireless telephony to work between Europe and the United States. It would be a great utility. It is not easy to pick up these messages, but even if they could be picked up easily there are many instances in which the wireless telephone would be used between America and Europe. Americans over here, for example, want to talk to their wives and sweethearts at home, and they don't mind who hears their conversations if they can speak and get an immediate answer and hear the voices of those who are dear to them.

"Tapping isn't very important, because otherwise the wireless would not have been used to such an enormous extent as it was during the war. Wireless telephony is not developed to the same extent as wireless telegraphy, but it is not any more likely to be overheard or tapped.

"I expect to bridge the Atlantic with wireless telephony, and I think—although one can't always be certain of it—that the ocean will be bridged first in a practical manner by wireless telephony not by telephony through a cable. The cost of laying such a cable between Europe and America would be prohibitive.

"What I consider remarkable about Col. Carthy's demonstration was his success in getting a telephone message through 5,000 miles of land wire.

"I think that before long we will have wireless telephony working satisfactorily between large centers that are great distances apart The only hope at present of speaking with America is by wireless telephony—not the ordinary telephone. If you have something with which you can speak all day with New York there will certainly be many persons who will want to use it. I do not think it will be in every house, but I think it can be connected with the ordinary telephone exchange, to enable subscribers to speak with distant countries from their own homes.

"I need not enlarge on the importance of this development for connecting various parts of the world. I have the greatest faith in the promise of the future."

OPPOSE WAGE CUTS

London, May 30.—A ballot of the Operative Cotton Spinners' Amalgamation on the wages question shows that 95½ percent of its members are against the proposed 30 percent decrease. LATEST PREMIER AT VLADIVOSTOK GIVES PROGRAM who is at present in Nikolsk, says that after the Government Militia had been disarmed by the Semenoffists, all the above mentioned officers went to the local Japanese headquarters where they were told the Japanese considered the event as a bloodless overthrow, and the Japanese refused to interfere in this until they should receive instructions from Vladivostok. Shortly after this, Col. Volkov, representative of one Kappelist Regiment, called on the above mentioned officials, stating that further disturbances by the Semenoffists were expected.

ORDER PRESERVED

In view of this General Smolin, Commander-in-Chief of the Kappelist forces, offered to order one of his men to take such precautions as would avoid bloodshed and disturbances, and to cooperate with the People's Defence Guard. This offer was accepted, and Gen. Smolin proclaimed himself chief of the local defence guard. Order is preserved in the city by the Kappelists and a division of the People's Defence Guard.

The Chief of the Nikolsk Garrison, Mr. Nechayev, has issued an order for suppressing by arms all attempts of disturbance, murder and robbery. The Government Post and Telegraph offices are still in the hands of the Semenoffists but strict order in the City is preserved. The Kappelists state that they are maintaining order temporarily and will hand over their duty to the Government Militia as soon as normal conditions are restored. Owing to the uncertain political situation, it is hard to predict whether there will shortly be another attempt or not.

(Dalta News Agency)

Chita, May 27.—The following protest of the Government of the Far Eastern Republic, signed by Skvirsky, the Vice-minister of Foreign Affairs, was sent to the Head of the Japanese Diplomatic Mission at Vladivostok. The same message was sent to the Commander of the Japanese Expeditionary Forces, and a duplicate copy was sent to the Plenipotentiary Representative of the Far Eastern Republic at Vladivostok. Mr. Zeitlin:

"According to reports by local authorities, telegraphic communication between Habarovsk and Vladivostok was interrupted during three days, viz: May twenty-fifth, twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh to the representatives of the Russian auhorities, but Japanese telegrams, both in code and otherwise addressed to the Japanese Mission at Habarovsk were accurately transmitted from Vladivostok, and delivered.

JAPS HOLD TELEGRAPHS

"This fact definitely confirms that the telegraph is in the hands of the Japanese, through whose fault the agents of the Government of the Far Eastern Republic are deprived of the possibility of communication with their Government. The Far Eastern Republic Government never even tried to prevent the free and unlimited use of the telegraph lines to the Japanese, and it is felt that the diversion of these lines for the exceptional use of the Japanese Command, who are temporarily in the territory of another state can be explained as nothing but a conscious tendency to violate the most elementary principles of International Law. The Government of the Far Eastern Republic hereby protests against such violation, and categorically demands that the telegraphs be immediately restored to normal conditions and that it be returned at once, as the first step toward this restoration, to the full and unconditional control of the lawful authorities of the Far Eastern Republic."

(Dalta News Agency)

The man whom the Japanese have placed at the head of the Government in Vladivostok is a Monarchist named Merkulov. Before the war he was very active in a campaign, which he carried on vigorously against the Chinese. He was active in his opposition to their immigration into Russia as laborers, and even advocated the driving out of the ones who were already established there.

Under the Tsar's regime he wrote many articles for the reactionary press on this subject, and was bitter and vituperative when on the subject of the Chinese. He is openly working now for a Japanese protectorate in the Far East, and has always been an advocate of the Japanese policies in Siberia. Lately he has twice journeyed to Dairen for conferences with Atan.an Semenoff. Mr. Merkulov organised a monarchistic conference in Vladivostok, but the merchants did not support him even to the extent of attending. All classes of Russians, Peasant to Bourgoisie are against him, including the business men of the country, as he is so pro-Japanese.

ANOTHER FAILURE

Tai Ah-nyi, carpenter, appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday on the charge of trying to commit suicide by leaping into the Whangpoo from the Canton Road jetty. A police constable who saw the splash commandeered a sampan and dragged him out.

When asked the reason for his act Tai replied that he had several. In the first place he had come to Shanghai from one of the neighboring villages to find work, and had been unable to locate any. Next his money ran out. Then he fell sick. In this extremity he recalled that his mother, who evidently had moved into town from the village some time ago, was living on Kiukiang Road. He went there and discovered that he had acquired a step-father and that the "welcome" sign had been shaved off the door-mat. Tai gave up at that and tried the river.

The Court turned the prisoner over to the Sinza Refuge.

Gen. Wang Leaves Peking For Hankow

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, May 30.—General Wang Chan-yuan left for Hankow this morning.

General Chen Shu-fan, in acknowledging the mandate appointing General Yen Hsien-wen Tuchun of Shensi, asks the Government to delay the arrival of General Yen for a couple of months, adding that it is unnecessary to send any further troops to Shensi, where there are already sufficient.

It is becoming obvious that the Government does not wholly trust General Chen Shu-fan's meek acceptance of dismissal, and General Tsao Kun is taking measures to secure General Yen's authority.

Meanwhile Reuter's correspondent at Kaifeng telegraphs that General Wu Pei-fu is sending to Shensi at least a division of troops.

A resolution expressing the sorrow felt at the loss by death of Dr. N. Macleod, former Chairman was seconded by Mr. Page.

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS

The Chairman's address was as follows:

Gentlemen: Before we proceed to the regular business of this meeting, I am sure you will wish to join your directors in expressing the great sorrow that we all feel at the sad news which reached Shanghai last week, that our greatly respected Chairman, Dr. Macleod, had passed away. Dr. Macleod was Chairman of this company from the very beginning and the success which has been achieved by it is very largely owing to his wise and energetic supervision.

He was a man gifted with a very unusually powerful mind, not only was he for a great number of years the leading medical man in Shanghai, but his activities reached out in many other directions and no greater proof of the versatility of his intellect could be desired than the great grasp he showed of the intricacies of the extremely technical business of telephony.

And through it all he was always the kindest and most considerate of men and the staunchest of friends as I feel sure many in this room know from their own experience. For myself, our friendship covered nearly half a century and I can truly say I could wish for no better friend.

And, Gentlemen, the losses we have suffered through death since we last met, are not confined to our late Chairman but another gentleman prominent in the history and management of this Company has gone over to the majority in the person of Mr. Oberg, so long the secretary and general manager. Only last year we had the pleasure of voting him a substantial honorarium on his retirement from that post, but, he was not spared long to enjoy it and now we have to lament his death.

The report and accounts with the auditor's certificate attached, having been in your hands for some days, I will, with your permission and as is customary, take them as read.

GENERAL SURVEY

West Exchange. The new switchboard in course of erection when we held our annual meeting last year, was duly completed shortly afterwards and was opened to service in July. It has considerably relieved the congestion which was then beginning to be felt.

East Exchange. At the last annual meeting you were informed that specifications had been issued calling for tenders from which four different automatic systems would be selected to be installed in this exchange and in three small private ones. I regret to say that the replies to these enquiries for tenders were very unsatisfactory in their delivery dates and your directors decided that as the company's engineer-in-chief and general manager was going on furlough in January, they would wait until such time as he could arrive home and send his own report on the various automatic systems, which he was instructed to inspect.

We received this report about 10 days ago and he speaks very favorably of one of the automatic systems a tender for which is being forwarded to us but until our directors have had an opportunity to go into the report and tender thoroughly, it is not possible for us to make any definite intimation as to the action to be taken, but this will be done as soon as is practicable.

Central and North Exchanges. Owing to the congestion on these two exchanges, your directors decided that further extension of the switchboards must be carried out without delay. Tenders were accordingly asked for from the same parties who supplied the previous apparatus for the exchange and their tenders were duly accepted last month for delivery within six months, amounting to about G. $200,000.

As will be seen from the report in your hands, the year under review has been another year of progress in the matter of installation of new telephones, 10,345 new lines have been installed as against 8,604 the previous year. The number of new instruments installed were 12,922 as against 10,502 last year showing a net increase of 2,420 instruments. The largest number of messages effected on any one day in 1921 was a record of 143,187 being an increase of 28,370 on the 1920 figures—the average number of messages per subscriber per day was 13.7 as against 13.5 for 1920 and 13.6 for 1919.

YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

During the year a good deal of work was done in running aerial cables, laying underground ducts and cables, erecting moving and changing poles as shown by the following statistics:

Aerial Cables run, measured in single wire, 740 miles.

Underground ducts laid, measured in single ducts, 5.7 miles.

Underground cable run, measured in single wire, 2275.7 miles.

Poles—erecting, moving and changing, 1167.

The staff on the 31st March was 887 as against 834 last year and the increase has been due to the extension of the various switchboards.

Turning to the accounts which are before you, your directors hope you will regard them as satisfactory. Omitting cents, the working expenditure increased Tls. 56,278 chiefly due to the increase in staff necessitating more wages, increase in repairs and maintenance.

Receipts in working account show an increase of Tls. 127,322 and the amount carried to profit and loss account, an increase of Tls. 71,043 as against the previous years figures.

The profit and loss account shows a net profit of Tls. 235,527.21 as against Tls. 210,298.90 last year. It will be noticed that there is a debit in the account of Tls. 7,483.58 on account of contribution and interest to the Chinese Provident Fund, the creation of which was explained to you last year.

Turning to the balance sheet, there is nothing special to draw your attention to, but the accounts are, I think sufficiently explanatory.

You will note that an item appears this year under the heading of contingent liabilities which represents the approximate value of supplies contracted for, but not delivered on March 31, 1921.

I do not think there is anything further for me to say but before proposing any resolution, I shall be glad to answer to the best of my ability, any questions that share holders may wish to ask.

Quake Movies To Settle Controversy

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, May 27.—The views of the earthquake devastated region in Kansu, brought back by Messrs. Hall and Hayes, investigators for the United International Famine Relief Committee, have aroused so much interest that the investigators have been requested to screen the photographs for public presentation. This presentation will be given on June 1, at the Peking Pavilion. The proceeds will be given to Kansu Earthquake Relief.

Much interest centers in the earthquake, inasmuch as the shock was felt in Peking, but the news of the disaster in Kansu where 150,000 people were buried in landslides or killed by falling buildings, did not come out to the world for a number of days. Owing to the loose nature of the soil, the quake constitutes one of the most unique seismic disturbances in history. Relief is being given by way of excavation to relieve the dammed-up streams, which threaten immense washouts and further destruction.

The general type of the destruction is well shown in the views, as well as such remarkable phenomena as the carrying of sections of road and homesteads for long distances on the tops of slides.

The presentation is being given under the auspices of Mr. Charles R. Crane, American Minister, General Ma Fu-Hsiang, Mohammedan leader of Kansu, and the United International Relief Committee.

This space will show weekly a new aspect of one of the great industrial institutions of the world.

Making the World's Cloth

Successful manufacturing depends upon economies of operation. With the perfections of electrical power machinery new ways to economy have been opened to the progressive manufacturer. Economies of maintenance, economies of labor, economies of fuel.

For electrical power permits of the use of individual motors on each machine, thus effecting great power savings. It eliminates the continuous whirl of pulleys, belts, and shafting whether the machines are working or not.

Westinghouse Electric Machinery means surer, steadier operation, less losses through breakdowns, less cost of repairs, more efficient operation. Many manufacturers have cast aside thousands of dollars' worth of machinery to install Westinghouse.

Senawang Rubber Estates To Undergo Reorganisation

Plans to reorganise the Senawang Rubber Estates Company Ltd., were authorised yesterday at an extraordinary meeting of shareholders that followed the fifteenth annual general meeting. Mr. E. T. Byrne, Chairman of the directorate, presided at both meetings and at the regular meeting 11,568 shares were represented and at the extraordinary meeting 21,503 shares were represented.

The reorganisation of the company is to have no effect on its activities as the new organisation is to supplant the existing company. The plan of reconstruction, as set forth in notices issued to shareholders, is as follows:

(1) A new company is to be formed with the same name as the existing company but with a capital of Tls. 400,000 divided into 400,000 shares of Tls. 1 each, instead of a capital of Tls. 375,000 divided into 75,000 shares of Tls. 5 each. The objects of the new company will be the same as those of the existing company.

(2) The undertaking of the existing company is to be made over to the new company upon the footing that the latter shall undertake to pay all the debts and liabilities of the present company and shall pay all the costs of winding up and the costs of putting the reconstruction scheme into effect.

(3) Every member of the old company is to receive in exchange for every share in the old company three fully paid up shares in the new company and to have the right to subscribe at par for one share in respect of every one share now held.

(4) Messrs. E. T. Byrne, A. K. Craddock, A. J. Welch and the Rev. Pere Sallou who are the present directors will be the directors of the new company.

(5) The reconstruction will be carried out under Section 185 of the Companies' Ordinance 1911 of Hongkong.

The resolution providing for the reorganisation, moved at the extraordinary meeting, was proposed by Mr. Byrne and was seconded by Mr. R. M. Swann.

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS

The address of the Chairman at the regular meeting was as follows:

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH

The directors' report and statement of accounts have been in your hands for some time and I will with your permission take them as read.

I will commence my remarks by commenting on the directors' report.

You will have noticed a difference of about 5 acres in the total area given in the report to that of the previous year.

The recent survey of fields 26, 29 and 30 and the re-survey of fields 13, 16 and 27 showed a total shortage of 71 acres in the planted area, 66 acres or more of which is accounted for by the overlapping of boundaries and encroachments, so there remains about 5 acres not accounted for.

The cut out and replanted area which was estimated to be 88 acres is now found to be 94 acres. When a re-survey of the remaining fields is possible, it will undoubtedly be found that the total acreage of the estate is in accordance with the title deeds, but that the areas of the different fields are at variance with present statistics.

The F. O. B. cost is slightly more than 1½d. over that of last year. War Tax has been eliminated but increases in the cost of superintendence, upkeep and production as well as loss on rice exceeds the charge eliminated.

OTHER ITEMS

The increase in cost of superintendence and upkeep is accounted for by the lower cutput. The heavy loss in sale of rice to the labor staff could not be prevented; I am pleased to state this item of expenditure is expected to disappear very shortly.

The visiting agent in his report of January 6 states the fields of the nature area are all in good order as regards weeding, but like certain other old estates those fields formerly planted with coffee show a large quantity of weed seed in the soil, growth of which has of course been facilitated by the thinning out, letting in much needed light: the weeding however is well in hand, and cost will come down at an early date. Field 29 consisting of 103 acres of non-producing trees has not been weeded for some time owing to want of funds, but will have attention as soon as finance permits.

The year under review has seen a very large amount of good work successfully completed.

Mouldy Rot is now conspicuous by its absence. The trees have responded visibly to thinning out and the bark shows a healthier appearance.

The price of Rubber has made the Management of any Estate a depressing one. The Manager has spent a good deal of money, but this was absolutely necessary and the results are gratifying.

At present only 628 acres of the producing area are being tapped, the remainder, 408 acres, being rested; these 408 acres were tapped by Chinese on the daily cut which was expensive, and with the present low price of rubber did not show any benefit. When the price of rubber appreciates, which I hope will be soon, these lands will again be brought into the tapping round.

THE ACCOUNTS

I think there is nothing further I can say on the working of the estate, the report deals fully with all matters, so I will turn to the accounts.

The loss on the year's working is regrettable. You have been fully advised of the outbreak of Mouldy Rot which resulted in the heavy expenditure necessary to put the estate in good order again. I can assure you that every cent spent has been necessary, and every economy has been exercised in so doing.

The overdraft with the company's bankers at present is approximately Tls. 45,000 which is guaranteed by Mr. Kadoorie Rev. Father Castrillo and Rev Pere Sallou on behalf of their missions and also by the secretaries and general managers, and we have to thank them all for being the means of carrying on the work of the estate up to the present time.

With the report and accounts the directors have issued a circular regarding a proposed reconstruction of the company, which after serious consideration the board has decided is the only method that can be adopted to put the company on a sound footing. At the extraordinary meeting which is called to take place immediately after this, I will put the resolutions necessary for reconstruction before you.

In the meantime before asking you to pass the report and accounts as presented, I will be pleased to answer any questions to the best of my ability.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were then offered and adopted:

That the directors' report and statement of accounts for the year ended January 31, 1921, as presented be adopted and passed.

That the appointment of Mr. A. J. Welch and Rev. Pere F. Sallou as directors of the company be confirmed.

That Mr. E. T. Byrne be re-elected a director of the company.

That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be re-elected Auditors of the Company for the ensuing year.

EXTRAORDINARY MEETING

Draft of Chairman's speech at extraordinary general meeting was as follows:

The circular letter dated 19th instant, putting before you the proposed scheme of reconstruction of the company has been in your hands since about that date, and I do not think it is necessary for me to further propound to you the present position of the company.

In my speech at the annual meeting just held, I told you under what conditions we were enabled to obtain the present overdraft with the company's bankers. As the bank is anxious to have the overdraft repaid, your directors, with a view to having same done and to obtain more capital to carry on the working of the estate, have finally decided that the only course left is to go into voluntary liquidation and reconstruct the company as detailed in the circular letter sent to you.

The company's property, as you are undoubtedly aware, is a very valuable one, and I am confident that all the members see the necessity of the scheme of reconstruction to place the company in a position to carry on.

I regret that there is such a small representation of shareholders present but I may mention that 2? shareholders have sent in their proxies and are represented by Mr. Stewart.

RESOLUTIONS

I now beg to put the extraordinary resolutions to the meeting. They are proposed by myself and seconded by Mr. A. K. Craddock and are as follows:

1.—That it is desirable to reconstruct the company and accordingly that the company be wound up voluntarily and that Charles James Lindsay Stewart of Shanghai be and he is hereby appointed liquidator for the purposes of such winding up.

2.—That the said liquidator be and he is hereby authorised to consent to the registration of a new company to be named the Senawang Rubber Estates Company (1921) Limited, with a Memorandum and Articles of Association which have already been prepared with the privity and approval of the directors of this company.

3.—That the draft agreement submitted to this meeting and expressed to be made between this company and its liquidator of the one part and The Senawang Rubber Estates Company (1921), Limited, of the other part be and the same is hereby approved, and that the said liquidator be and he is hereby authorised pursuant to Section 185 of the Companies' Ordinance 1911 of Hongkong to enter into an Agreement with such new Company (when incorporated) in the terms of the said draft and to carry the same into effect with such (if any) modifications as he thinks expedient.

Honan Asks About Anfuites Punishment

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, May 29.—The People's Association of Honan has sent a communication to the Government, asking what steps are being taken to punish Wang Yin-huan, who was Secretary of the House of Representatives when the Anfuites were in power, for being (as the Association alleges) concerned in the recent disturbances under the leadership of General Chen Shen.

Reports regarding the progress of the elections have been received by the Ministry of the Interior from Kuangsi, Honan, Kansu, Kiangsu, Sinkiang, Kirin, Fengtien and Heilungkiang. These provinces say that their elections will be completed by June 10 at latest. Reports from other provinces, while not so definite, give promise of the early completion of the elections.

As the result of information showing that the people of Chekiang are largely in favor of proceeding with the elections for the new Parliament, the Government is sending Mr. Tu Li-hua to Chekiang with a view to persuading General Li Yung-hsiang to cease his opposition to the elections.

EXPEDITION PLANS

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, May 29.—The preparations for the Mongolian expedition are proceeding rapidly, and meanwhile General Chang Tso-lin is taking measures to prevent the escape of Ungern's forces in an easterly direction.

The latest developments are surprisingly thorough in view of the former dilatoriness in connection with the proposed expedition.

YOURIN AT HARBIN

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Harbin, May 27.—On his way to Chita, M. Yourin declared in an interview with Zaria correspondent that there wire reasons to believe that a Trade Agreement between the Far Eastern Republic and China would soon be signed, but that his work at Peking might have been more successful but for the continued interference of Russian representatives from Harbin and Manchuria Station.

WHAT TO DO WHEN BABY CANNOT SLEEP.

The baby that cries half the night does not cry for fun. It cries because it is not well. Almost all infantile ailments, including the pains of teething arise in the first place from stomach and bowel troubles. To induce sleep in a natural way, therefore, all that is necessary is set these troubles right, for which purpose Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, have been specially devised.

The first effect of the Tablets is to act gently and kindly on the bowels. Then they soothe the stomach, allay teething pains, and promote calm natural sleep, the baby waking up thoroughly rested and ready for its meal. In most cases the rapidity with which their good effects become apparent seems almost magical.

Baby's Own Tablets are guaranteed to contain not the minutest trace of any opiate, narcotic, or other harmful drug. They are equally harmless and helpful to the youngest infant as to the child of 6 or 8 years, and are a proved remedy for infantile constipation, colic, diarrhoea, simple fever, colds and worms.

Chemists sell Baby's Tablets, or post free at 60 cents the vial from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Peking Signs With Russo-Asiatic Bank

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, May 28.—The Bureau of Economic Information states that an agreement has recently been signed by the Chinese Government and the Russo-Asiatic Bank, which, whilst ensuring joint management, specifies that the Chinese Government shall control the line and remain custodian of the property, both physical and non-physical, until the establishment of a stable Government in Russia. The Government denies the report that the Chinese Eastern Railway is to be internationalised, and this agreement seems to be an effective reply to the rumors.

The Ministry of Communications is negotiating with the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications for a loan of $2,000,000 to support the Chinese Eastern Railway. The loan will be guaranteed by the Government with the revenue of the railway as security.

The Government Bureau of Economic Information says that with the sanction of the Ministry of Agriculture and Commerce a museum for the exhibition of Chinese minerals has been inaugurated in Peking. It contains a valuable and instructive collection of China's minerals. The Chief of the Geological Survey of China, Mr. Tieo Wen-kiang, is the leading spirit in the movement, and the cost of the museum will be defrayed by the mining companies throughout the country.

Harbin, May 27.—The Manager of the Chinese Eastern Railway M. Ostroumoff, has just returned from Manchuli, where he has had a conference with the Manager of the Chita Railway, M. Kastel. M. Pushkareff, a Member of the Board of Directors, and Colonel Johnson of the Inter-Allied Technical Board as well as some of the head railway officials, also attended the conference.

As the Chita Railway is able to place at the disposal of the C.E.R. about 300 cars at Manchuria Station which will serve as a reserve of rolling stock, the question of resuming through goods traffic was easily solved. M. Ostroumoff however proposed that the Chita Government should deposit a large sum in one of the Harbin Foreign Banks to serve as a guarantee for the exporters, pointing out that he was afraid that the Harbin merchants would not be satisfied with verbal guarantees, fearing their goods might be seized before they reached their destination.

It is believed that this plan will meet with some opposition on the part of the Chita Government, whose financial position is far from being brilliant.

It appears that at present only two goods trains a week are run between Chita and Manchuria Station, but if Chita agrees to the offer of the C.E.R., all measures will be taken to improve the situation.

CHINESE STUDENTS

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, May 24.—Mr. Tsi Yuen-pei, Rector of Peking University, has concluded with the authorities of Lyons University an agreement for the establishment in that city of an institute where Chinese students may complete their scientific training.

M. Leon Berard, Minister of Public Instruction, yesterday received Mr. Tsi Yuen-pei, and conferred on him, in the name of the French Government, the rank of Commander of the Legion of Honor.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

EDWARD PARKER, M. D.,

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies."
VICTOR H. COFFMAN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children, in fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."

The Secret of the Bat's Sixth Sense Discovered at Last

The Common American Bat, Showing the Wonderfully Constructed Wings Which Enable It to Emit Sounds Too High to Be Heard by Man. These Sounds Are Reflected by Solid Objects and Are Heard by the Bat's Ears, Enabling It to Find Its Way in the Dark.

The Outer Edges of the Ears of the Bat Are Extremely Large and Mobile and in Front of the Opening Are Little "Wings" That Vibrate Strangely. These Are Part of the Mechanism That Enables the Bat to Receive Sounds Inaudible to Man

How does a bat flying through the air at lightning speed manage never to hit anything?

When the bat darts straight at your head and turns suddenly before he collides with you, is it because his eyes guide his movements?

Is it because he smells the obstacle ahead of him?

Is it because air waves come back from the object he approaches to warn him?

The mystery of the darting flight of bats in the darkness of a church belfry or stygian cave has always puzzled science.

Has the bat a "sixth sense"?

Does the bat possess some sort of special, unique and hitherto unknown sense by which the little creatures can tell what is in front of him in the darkness in time to avoid collision with it?

The bat has interested science for many years. Many experiments have been made to try and find out his secret. Bats have been turned loose in the laboratories and examined under all sorts of conditions. Fine threads have been stretched across in haphazard ways in the room, and yet the bat in its flight, darting here and there, has been able to avoid running into the threads.

How can a bat, flying at top speed in a room, know that there is a fine silk thread just ahead of him and turn in time to avoid it?

Science has at last unraveled the secret.

The true explanation is that the bat emits tiny sound-waves too high to be audible to human ears, which send back an echo from all solid objects near to it. The bat has peculiarly attuned ears, provided with many external facial appendages, that receive these echoes. The net result is that the bat receives a sound picture of surrounding objects—in other words, it "sees" with its ears.

Professor Hamilton Hartridge, of Cambridge University, England, was one of the group of scientists that solved the bat's secret. Professor Hartridge patiently studied the habits of bats, which on Summer evenings flew in hundreds through the windows of the ancient university building in which he lived. The rooms had been fitted with electricity, which, of course, could be turned off in an instant.

When Professor Hartridge turned the lights off he found that the bats never flew against the globes, electroliers or other fittings, even when there was a regular stream of them passing rapidly through the room. As a rule they were flying in a flock in one direction.

Then the professor stretched threads across the darkened rooms, but the bats always dodged them with unerring certainty. He tested them in many other ways. Further, the creatures could always tell whether a door was shut or opened wide or just sufficiently open to allow them to pass.

Another observer, Professor A. Whitaker, working in co-operation with Hartridge, discovered that even when the bat's eyes were covered with wax it could avoid obstacles placed in the room, such as threads or a dozen chairs placed irregularly. The bats did not so much as touch these obstacles with the tips of their wings.

The scientists also noted that bats never dashed themselves uselessly against window panes, as many birds do. This showed that their peculiar sense told them that the invisible glass was in their way.

Thus it was demonstrated that the bat's powers were not due to keen eyesight, for they could "see" in absolute darkness, their eyes were only partially developed, and they could "see" with eyes covered. It was demonstrated that the power was not due to keenness of touch, because they never touched objects.

It was not reasonable to assume that their powers were due to keenness of hearing, because for most sounds they showed less acute ears than dogs and other animals. Finally, it was not scientific to assume that the bats had "a sixth sense" not understood by man and not possessed by other animals.

Thus the scientists were led to make still more intricate experiments. Professor Hartridge then discovered that the bats gave forth when flying little noises or "short wave-length sounds" near the audible limit of man and above that of most people. The bats have an abnormal sensitiveness to hearing such sounds and have little or no ability to hear louder sounds.

The other bat investigator, Professor Whitaker, found that bats were not disturbed when he and others spoke loudly to them, but that they were greatly disturbed when paper was torn or hands were clapped. The tearing of paper caused them immediately to decrease their speed of flight and begin "fluttering."

The explanation of this was that man's speech is below their hearing limit, while the noise of the torn paper or clapped hands reaches their range and disturbs the acuteness of hearing that is directing their flight.

Most people know that bats move their wings very rapidly. They make about ten to twelve strokes with their wings in a second of time. This, of course, produces an extremely high note that is not generally audible to man, but easily becomes so with the aid of a microphone.

This high note travels after the manner of sound or, perhaps, of light, strikes all the surrounding objects, becomes modified by their character and size, and is reflected back. These reflections or echoes are received by the bat's ears.

There is still a possibility that the inaudible notes are also uttered by the bat's throat, but this has not been proved yet.

It is, however, now considered proved by a variety of evidence that the bat receives its knowledge of surrounding objects by sending out sounds that are reflected back a moment later.

The best naturalists have for years understood that the bat possessed some extraordinary means of guiding its flight, but they failed to understand the true nature of the apparatus. Cuvier, the greatest French naturalist of his time, thought that the bat's power of finding its way about in the dark was due to an exceptional development of the sense of touch, residing especially in the great delicate membranous expanse of the wings.

He was right in supposing that the wings had some unusual functions not possessed by bird's wings, but he did not understand how they really worked.

The bat's wings are of an exceedingly delicate structure and are traversed by many large nerves, the fine ramifications of which terminate in little loops, like those found in the parts of the skin of man in which the sense of touch is developed to the greatest perfection. Their surface is covered with rows of small thickened points or papillae, which very probably have something to do with the perception of exceedingly delicate tactile impressions. Evidently they are developed to respond with great rapidity to the warnings furnished by its ears.

But it is in the ears of the bat and the surrounding parts of the face that the most extraordinary developments are to be found. The various species of bats have considerably different types of ears, but they are all more highly developed than those of other animals.

The pinnae, or outermost parts of the ear, of the bat are very large, movable, sensitive and well developed. They are furnished with nerves and blood vessels in a higher degree proportionately than the outer ears of other animals. These outer ears of the bat move and quiver in a strange manner, which was never understood until the present investigations.

In front of the opening of the ear there are little upright pieces of tissue and cartilage called "leaves" which move about in a very puzzling manner. They help the animal to catch sounds inaudible to us. These little "hearing posts" are to be seen in our commonest small bats, while in some peculiar bats, such as "Blainville's bat," there is a series of facial appendages connected with them, as may be seen in an accompanying illustration.

The faces of the different species of bats are covered with little organs, which co-operate in its extraordinary hearing powers. In the large vampire bat there is an organ on the tip of the nose. It stands up in the air and is called "the shield," but in most of the small bats that catch insects on the wing we find the two little "leaves," in front of the ear openings, not unlike the wings of the insects that it pursues. Others have additional sensitive spots located around the sides of the face, the cheeks, chin and lips.

In connection with the power of the bat to hear high sounds, it is interesting to know that the best musical authorities say that women can hear tones too high to be audible to man.

One of the most peculiar facts about the bat studies is the statement of the scientists that the sounds made by the bat "cast shadows and form sound-pictures." In other words, the bat's ear receives a kind of picture of nearby objects.

This explanation sounds amazing, but it must be remembered that science had already proved that certain short sound-waves behave like the waves of light. Both, under certain conditions, form sharp shadows, obey the laws of reflection and are reflected from solid objects. Ordinary sound-waves of large wave-lengths do not sharply manifest these phenomena, but sounds of very short wave-lengths at or near or above the audible limit for man are reflected, and cast shadows with ordinary objects.

Indeed, even quite small objects and flat surfaces of small superficial area reflect these waves sharply, though ordinary sound would not be appreciably affected.

Commenting on the discovery, the London Lancet says that the bat has solved some of the most difficult problems that scientists have been working on. A mechanical appliance based on this principle would be of enormous value in making navigation safe. The terrible Titanic disaster of 1912, with its great loss of life, might have been avoided if the ship had been provided with apparatus like that of the bat for detecting the nearness of solid objects in the night. It would have given the Titanic's officers warning of the proximity and direction of the iceberg in plenty of time to avoid a collision.

A similar apparatus would have been of enormous value in the war to show the approach of aeroplanes and for other purposes. Efforts were actually made with a certain amount of success to construct appliances with this object during the war.

Some of these appliances were based on directional wireless and "echo direction." It was a difficult matter to locate the position of a distant big gun, because an explosion produces a sudden impulse propagated equally in all directions. In locating guns the physicists used three wireless telephone receivers in known positions, and were able to locate approximately the direction of the explosion. A modification of the same apparatus was used in locating ships at sea.

Scientific investigators have experimented with sound-waves of 5,000 to 10,000 periods per second, which is far below the shortest wave-periods audible by man. When such a beam of sound of high frequency, comparable to a searchlight, falls upon an obstacle, it is reflected or echoed, and the echo is detected by a hydrophone. An instrument based on this idea has proved somewhat useful in detecting rocks and ships, but not in locating icebergs, which have elastic properties similar to those of water.

The ears of man are very uncertain and unreliable in detecting the direction of sounds, even when these are loud enough to be heard. By increasing the distance between man's two ears by means of an apparatus a great increase of accuracy in locating the direction of sound is obtained.

Another apparatus has been invented to give the blind man knowledge of his surroundings through his ears as the bat receives its impressions.

On the other hand, the bat is able to locate the position of objects very accurately, even though its funny ears are very close together, because the sounds emitted and reflected to its ears are of very short wave-length.

Bats possess powers of flight superior to that of many birds. This may be inferred from the fact that a red bat has been known to catch flies in the air while burdened with young that together weighed more than she did.

Most California bats catch and devour prey on the wing. They bite off and reject the hard parts of insects. In the Autumn bats become very fat, ready for migration or hibernation. Even the bats on the wing all the year rely on this stored fat to balance a scarcity of insects.

Bats are as valuable to men as are any of the insectivorous birds. They are relentless and untiring hunters and destroyers of mosquitoes, and this makes it very desirable to encourage them. San Antonio, Texas, and other towns have constructed "bat roosts" in order to encourage the little animals to breed and destroy mosquitoes. The bats attack nearly all the nocturnal insects, especially the disease carriers.

They are very difficult to shoot because of their swift, erratic flight. It has been asserted by some naturalists that they have the power to dodge shot through their phenomenal sense.

They are powerful swimmers and have the habit of going into the water in search of insects.

In connection with the power of bats to avoid obstacles in the dark it is interesting to recall the explanations that have been advocated of the blind man's power of avoiding collisions. Persons who have been long blind often show a remarkable ability to avoid collisions with walls, posts and other lifeless objects. Professor C. F. Fraser, of Nova Scotia, has shown that this is because a person in moving drives a slight wave of air before him. When this strikes a solid object it is thrown back, and some blind men are clever enough to perceive the proximity of solid objects in this. It has been argued not unreasonably that the bat's power to avoid obstacles was due to similar conditions, but investigation seems to prove that the animal power is too delicate and unerring to explained in this way.

An Announcement Of A Rich Collection Of Curios For Sale

A rich collection of curios is open for exhibition in my residence. It contains more than two hundred articles, of which the most antique Bronzes are ascertained to range from Shang and Chow Dynasties to that of the Two Hans, and the porcelains from Peh Soong to the beginning of the Tsin Dynasty. They are all well preserved pieces, real and fine. Regarding the genuineness, it has been verfied either by authentic ancient books or by inscriptions as well as initials thereon. None of them is questionable as to its age, designs, markings, etc.

In addition to the Bronzes and Porcelains, there are also wide varieties of valuable Carvings in wood, bamboo, and precious stones, also natural Fossils, Inter-Stones, Tanshi Stones, and Chrysanthemum Stones, etc. Most of these articles are magificent masterpieces of ancient fine art as identified in themselves, and already encased in beautiful artistic casing so as to facilitate transportation at any time.

Due to the successive disturbances in the province, and the recent irregular financial conditions in general, the proprietors of this collection are willing to offer their highly esteemed treasure for cash. Now I take the liberty to introduce the same collection to any Chinese or foreign connoisseur who is prepared to take same over at a favorable price.

Those interested in the matter of inspection are requested to apply to Chen Wan Shian Tan, No. 4 Shu Day Tze Kow, Changsha, Hunan, by notifying me in advance, so that I will have the honor of welcoming their esteemed visits at a specified time.

Very Important!

We do not recommend that you have us redeem your bond in the event of your needing money temporarily, for this destroys the future benefits you would receive from carrying out our plan.

Should you need funds after you have cancelled your bond awhile, take it to our office and borrow the amount you need. Keep your bond in force, and when your loan is repaid you have the bond free to mature.

French Wine Prices Drop; Water Scarce

Fair Quality Of Vin Ordinaire Now Said To Cost Only A Franc

Paris, April 30.—A special Providence must be watching over Paris in the interest of the thirst of its people. Simultaneously with the news that the capital's drinking water reservoirs are threatened with unprecedented depletion this summer comes the assurance that wines of all kinds will be more plentiful and cheaper than since 1910, when a bottle of ordinary red Bordeaux was obtainable for forty centimes (eight cents then). Nevertheless Paris officials are preparing for filtration of the Seine water if this supply does not arrive, although the Seine product, even when submitted to the latest processes, invariably retains an objectionable taste and odor.

An old French adage suggests that when it thunders in April it is time to get the barrels ready for the wine crop. It thundered twice during the first week this month and promptly the retail prices of vin ordinaire from Bordeaux dropped as much as seventy-five centimes a litre, and in Paris the majority of retailers are now selling a fair quality for less than a franc a litre.

On the other hand, this condition may be taken as a warning by Germany, as plentiful wine means that the canteens of the soldiers will be filled to overflowing with their favorite pinard, which was admittedly one of the best methods for maintaining the solidarity and morale of the French divisions during the war.

Memorial To Gallieni The Savior Of Paris

Proposed Statue Will Show General Watching Marne Battle

Paris, April 28.—France having already made Gen. Gallieni a posthumous Field Marshal, friends of the late soldier have started a movement to perpetuate still further the memory of the savior of Paris by erecting a monument to him. The Paris Municipal Council has promised to support the movement and a special commission has approved the model of a statue showing the General anxiously watching the development of the first battle of the Marne.

"LIGNOID"
An Ideal Flooring Material
Lignoid is a new composition, whose discovery has opened a new era in the methods of flooring and materials for structural purposes, regarding which architects and engineers have hitherto made so much study and effort. It contains in itself all the merits of such flooring materials as wood, tiles, asphalt, concrete, marble, linoleum, mosaic or tenazzo, and is far superior to them as regards its suitability, which is really ideal, for flooring purposes. The following are its special features:
(1) Character: The principal ingredient of Lignoid being an inorganic substance and contaning certain chemical admixtures, it is non-corrosive and insoluble.
(2) It is incombustible and insulating and remarkably waterproof.
(3) It makes up, when installed, a solid floor with a fine appearance and being quite free from any tendency to corrision and abrasion, its durability is permanent.
(4) It well withstands heat and cold, and it is remarkably free from the tendency to crack.
(5) It is dust-proof.
(6) Being light and elastic it makes walking pleasant, and gives no sound.
(7) As it adheres firmly to wood, concrete, stone and iron, it never bulges as is the case with linoleum.
(8) No matter how great the space may be on which it is to be need, it can be installed without using any joins.
(9) Its installation is easily carried out by a plasterer.
(10) Cleaning and repairing can be done easily.
(11) Its price is moderate.
No matter how spacious the office, saloon, dining-room, corridor, venandah, etc., it can be put down without any joins. For wainscoting entrance, corridors, bathrooms, laboratories, etc., it is admirable.

An Early American Hero In China

Frederick Townsend Ward

(1831-1862) (1)

By Charles Summer Lobingier

Address on the occasion of the pilgrimage of Frederick Ward Post of the American Legion to General Ward's tomb at Sung Kiang, China, "Memorial Sunday," May 29, 1921.

SIXTY years ago last month began the titanic struggle which we call our Civil War. For nearly four years the fate of our nation hung in the balance, while the question whether we should remain one people or become two peoples was left to the arbitrament of arms. Happily, as all now acknowledge, the decision was in favor of unity and our country emerged from the ordeal of battle, stronger and more united than ever. And Memorial Day, which was born in the wake of that freightful cataclysm, which we are to observe tomorrow, and to which this is a fitting prelude, thus became an occasion for honoring the memory of those who made possible that auspicious outcome.

But not all of our national heroes during those fateful four years were fighting in the homeland. Some were carrying the flag to distant seas and at least one was maintaining the best traditions of his country by valiant service on foreign soil. Had he been at home he would doubtless have joined those who fought to preserve the Union just as his forbears had fought in almost every war in which our nation had engaged.

But, though our China hero had left his native land before there was any serious thought of civil war, and though he himself was engaged in a great struggle here, he did not forget the needs of his suffering country. In probably the last letter he wrote he offered Minister Burlingame to contribute ten thousand taels to the Union Cause. And Secretary Seward, replying in the midst of our Civil War to the Imperial Edict which eulogised our hero, said.

"He fell while illustrating the fame of his country in an untried, distant, and perilous field. His too early death will be deeply mourned by the American people."

Surely it cannot be out place to pay tardy tribute to such a character!

Sixty years ago China was likewise in the throes of a civil war. A vast section of the Chinese people, never fully reconciled to Manchu rule, had then been fighting for nearly a decade to overthrow it. There was some reason for that movement The Tai-pings were not all bad. Their early camps were noted for sobriety and discipline (2) and their leaders knew something of at least the externals of Christianity. But all this cannot blind us to the real character and results of the Tai-ping Crusade which have thus been described in a monumental work on China:

"The once peaceful and populous parts of the nine great provinces through which his hordes passed have hardly yet begun to be restored to their previous condition. Ruined cities, desolated towns, and heaps of rubbish still mark their course from Kwangsi to Tien'sin, a distance of two thousand miles, the efforts at restoration only making the contrast more apparent. Their presence was an unmitigated scourge, attended by nothing but disaster from beginning to end, without the least effort on their part to rebuild what had been destroyed, to protect what was left, or to repay what had been stolen. Wild beasts roamed at large over the land after their departure, and made their dens in the deserted towns; the pheasant's whirr resounded where the hum of busy populations had ceased, and weeds or jungle covered the ground once tilled with patient industry. Besides millions upon millions of taels irrecoverably lost and destroyed, and the misery, sickness, and starvation which were endured by the survivors, it has been estimated by foreigners living at Shanghai that, during the whole period from 1851 to 1865, fully twenty millions of human beings were destroyed in connection with the Tai-ping Rebellion." (3)

It was when this gigantic upheaval had reached its height that the Chinese government turned, as it often has before and since, to foreign aid. Li Hung Chang, the foremost Chinese of that day and pronounced by General Grant one of the three greatest men whom he had met in his travels around the world, was keen enough to recognise the genius and secure the services of a youthful American whose courage and dash were to vitalise a counter movement, which was to stem the tide of destruction and eventually crush the rebellion.

Frederick Townsend Ward was a native of old Salem, that venerable New England town which, though almost the farthest of any part of America from China, had for several generations the closest connection with it. Ward's ancestors were seafarers and fighters, one having served in the French and Indian war, another in the Revolution and a third as a naval officer in the war of 1812. Frederick's father was a shipmaster and the son took naturally to the sea. As a boy he sailed the waters adjacent to his native town and at an age when most boys are still at their toys or books, he entered upon the larger schooling of the sea. A second mate at fifteen: It seems almost incredible; but it was at that age that he made his first voyage to China, watching the quarter deck of the clipper Hamilton, making a record for efficiency, and arriving soon after the treaty of Wang Hia had opened China to Americans. In 1849, at the age of eighteen, Ward shipped as first mate on the Russell Glover, for California, then receiving its first rush of gold seekers, and two years later he was again first mate of a ship sailing from San Francisco to Shanghai. And between these long voyages he was gaining military experience—serving first in South America where he came in contact with Garibaldi, later with Walker in Nicaragua and finally, it is said, (4) with the French army in the Crimea. In 1859 he completed his last voyage to China.

On a previous visit here Ward had served for a time on a river boat watching for opium smugglers. He now became an officer on a Yangtse steamer and distinguished himself by repelling a formidable attack of pirates after his captain had lost hope. Next we find him as first officer of the Chinese gunboat Confucius where his brilliant exploits brought him eventually to the notice of Li Hung Chang.

The first result of this contact was a commission from the Chinese government to recruit a force for an expedition against Sung Kiang then strongly held by the Tai-pings. And such was Ward's daring that with no more than a hundred foreigners, recruited in and around Shanghai, and without artillery, he led an attack on the huge rebel force intrenched so strongly behind the walls of Sung Kiang. Naturally the assault failed but Ward was undaunted. He paid off the remnant of his first company and started at once to raise another. This time he anticipated history for his new force consisted largely of Filipinos. Just as, about a generation later, American officers like Allen and Harbord organised the Philippine Constabulary from the same material and made it an effective force; and just as other officers have trained the Philippine Scouts until they have become a powerful auxiliary of the American forces in the Far East; so this youthful American of sixty years ago gathered around him the "Manila-men" of Shanghai and drilled them for service. Throughout his later carrer his bodyguard was composed of Filipinos and one of them, Macanaya, became his devoted aide-de-camp and was the first to enter Tsingpu at its final capture. (5)

With these Filipinos and a few other foreigners, all aggregating less than one hundred, and with only two foreign officers, Ward led a second successful assault upon Sungkiang. Attacking by night and surprising the garrison he was able to open one of the gates, the great rebel force was obliged to surrender to this handful of besiegers and Sungkiang became, and remained throughout the war, as Ward had planned, the Chinese base of operations against the Tai-pings.

Ward now began to enlarge his force, adding not only more foreigners but many Chinese and his command came to be known as Chang Shing-kium, the "Ever Victorious Army."

His next important objective was Tsing-pu, thirty miles from Sung Kiang and his dauntless persistence was demonstrated by no less than five attacks on that rebel stronghold. The last on February 21, 1862, was successful not only in capturing, but in holding, the city.

The "Ever Victorious Army" had now grown to 10,000, mostly, of course, natives of the country. In September, 1862 it marched to Ningpo which the Tai-pings were threatening. On the morning of the twentieth Ward led an expedition against Tsz Ki and while reconnoitering the field with one of his officers, he was mortally wounded. His troops captured the town but their leader passed away that night and that closing scene might well be described by paraphrasing slightly the lines dedicated by our American poet, Halleck, to the modern Greek hero Bozzaris:

They fought like brave men long and well;
They piled that ground with Tai-pings slain;
They conquered; but their leader fell
Bleeding at every vein.
His few surviving comrades saw
His smile when rang their glad hurrah,
And the red field was won;
Then saw in death his eyelids close
Calmly as to a night's repose
Like flowers at set of sun.

What were the achievements of this young life, terminated so prematurely and in a land so remote from that of its beginning? First of all it was remarkably successful from the merely individual standpoint. Here was a youth without education in the conventional sense; without family connections or influence; without friends or acquaintances even—a stranger in a strange land. And yet by sheer merit he rose within a few months to a position of the highest responsibility, winning the implicit confidence of an alien government and the almost fanatical devotion of a motley force of alien troops whose various tongues for the most part he could not even understand. Such a meteoric career has few parallels in history.

Ward conceived and put into execution the strategic plans by which the Tai-ping rebellion was eventually suppressed. Reporting to Secretary of State Seward, in the month following Ward's death, Minister Burlingame said:

"He fought countless battles, at the head of a Chinese force called into existence and trained by himself, and always with success.

"Indeed, he taught the Chinese their strength, and laid the foundations of the only force with which their government can hope to defeat the rebellion."

Captain Rhoderick Dhu of the British flagship Encounter wrote in his report to Admiral Sir James Hope:

"During a short acquaintance with General Ward I have learned to appreciate him much, and I fear his death will cast a gloom over the Imperial cause in China, of which he was the stay and prop."

Li Hung-chang's memorial of 1862 recited "that in the early part of spring of the present year, Sung Kiang and Shanghai were threatened by the rebels and that the turning away of the danger and the maintenance of tranquility in those places was chiefly due to the exertions of Ward."

And years later at the dedication of the memorial temple the taotai of Shanghai declared "that the sole credit of Shanghai not having been taken by the rebels was due to General Ward."

But the conclusive tribute to Ward's genius arises from the eloquent facts that for a dozen years before he took command the Imperial forces had been meeting continuous reverses, that he himself achieved all objectives and that within two years after his death, by following the lines laid by him and employing the forces he had trained, the mighty Tai-ping rebellion had ended.

But Ward did more than raise and discipline a force for immediate objectives. He in fact laid the foundations for a modern Chinese army. By him for the first time Chinese soldiers were equipped with foreign uniforms and drilled by modern methods. Under him Sung Kiang became, not only a base of operations, but a great military school and he was able to demonstrate that Chinese troops, under foreign officers, can be made formidable. One of the Tai-ping leaders complained that Li Hung-chang was using devil soldiers against him and that a thousand of them were keeping in check ten thousand of his. How different would have been the situation in China today if Ward's methods could have been continued ever since and a military force trained and led like the "Ever Victorious Army" were available now to the central government!

Ward was also the first to introduce among Chinese troops the customs of modern civilised warfare. When, during the operations around Shanghai, a large force of prisoners was captured by the Imperialists who proceeded to decapitate the former, Ward interfered and stopped the slaughter.

Nevertheless, like all positive and achieving characters, Ward encountered the opposition and jealousy which beget calumny. A biographer (6) of General Gordon links Ward with Burgevine and calls them "two American adventurers . . . of an unscrupulous and unattractive type." As to Ward at least the slur is as unfounded as it is uncalled for and it is a pleasure to be able to quote from other writers of the biographer's nationality such expressions as these:

"Ward was a brave, energetic leader and managed both the force and the mandarines very ably; he was much regretted by every one." (7).

And again:

"Ward was undoubtedly a brave man and he had done excellent service for the Chinese government. The news of his death was received with universal regret." (8).

It is not necessary to disparage Ward in order to give Gordon his due. No reader of modern history can fail to admire the knightly character who, twenty years after the Tai-pings had been vanquished, gave up his life so heroically and yet so needlessly in faraway Khartoum. But in China, Gordon completed the work which Ward had so well begun. Ward was the Moses who led the Chinese out of the wilderness. Gordon was the Joshua who entered the promised land of peace through victory. Let us detract from neither. There is glory sufficient for both.

"Adventurer," Ward may have been in the sense that Columbus was or Sir Francis Drake or Captain Scott. But when did the world forget its debt to the adventurous?

And all the contemporary evidence refutes the charge that Ward was "unscrupulous." "His success in training his men," declares S. Wells Williams, (9) "was endorsed by honorable dealings with the mandarins who reported well of him at Peking." Li Hung-chang's memorial to the Emperor on the death of Ward recited:

"Such loyalty and valor, issuing from his natural disposition, is extraordinary when compared with these virtues of the best officers of China; and among foreign officers it is not easy to find one worthy of equal honor." (10).

And the Imperial edict, issued in pursuance of this memorial, characterised Ward as "a man of heroic disposition, a soldier without dishonor." (11).

And how idle it is to term "unattractive" one who succeeded as did Ward in winning the attachment of those about him. "More devoted followers no captain ever had," says Paine. (12). "It was their pride to be known as 'Ward's disciplined Chinese.'" And they knew him best for they were with him under the most trying circumstances when, if ever, one's "unattractive" qualities will appear.

That the Chinese leaders were equally attracted to him is amply demonstrated by the respect and confidence they showed him in life, by the honors they paid him at death and by the monument they erected to his memory. The great Napoleon, the centenary of whose passing has just been so fittingly observed, wrote in his will:

"I desire that my ashes repose on the banks of the Seine in the midst of the French people whom I have so loved."

Frederick Townsend Ward did not write such a wish in his will but those for whom he fought and died assumed that he felt it and sought, in the most enduring way they knew, to carry it out. Here with loving hands they have erected a memorial which, if not so imposing as that surmounted by the great dome of the Hotel des Invalides, is yet the spontaneous tribute of a grateful people. Here in the ornate language of old Cathay they have thus immortalised this young countryman of ours:

A wonderful hero from beyond the seas,
The fame of whose deserving loyalty encircles the world,
Has poured his azure blood upon the soil of China.
A happy seat among the clouds (13).
And temples lasting for a thousand springs,
Commemorate his faithful heart. (14).

Here for many years have been performed the age-old rites with which China honors the memory of departed greatness: And here amid these hallowed surroundings we may safely leave our hero, recalling Tennyson's lines of Napoleon's great adversary:

Let the sound of those he wrought for
And the feet of those he fought for
Echo round his tomb forevermore.

Facts About Yap

BY 'BUGS' BAER

Yap is attracting more attention than natural complexion on a flapper. Before war nobody paid any attention to it. Just like No Smoking sign in factory building. It used to be cooling station for exiled U. S. consuls. War came along. Yap jumped into public eye like cinder on the Erie Railway.

U. S. of A., home of best soda cracker in world, wants Yap. U. S. is republic with monarchical form of government. Japan wants Yap. Mikado wants market for his headless Japanese matches.

Location. Between Japan and U. S.

Population. Mostly parrots and monkeys. Sort of co-operative zoo.

Habits. Drinking. Smoking. We will. We'll fix that.

Rent. Moderate. Landlords pray to tenants.

Vegetation. Mandate trees. Note bushes. Ultimatum vines.

Climate. Permanent.

Industries. Making mud pies. Cutting out paper dolls.

Language. Selfish. Everybody talks to himself.

Imports. Breezes and seaweed.

Exports. Trouble.

Future. More trouble.

History. Free citizen escaping from U. S. swam 9,000 miles to Yap. Natives thought he was a god because they never saw white man sober before. He introduced bunions, wood alcohol, excessive taxes and other triumphs of civilisation.

Weeks And Co. Has Record Year

The twenty-first annual general meeting of Messrs. Weeks and Co., Ltd., was held yesterday afternoon at the head offices, 37 Kiangse Road. Mr. Leslie J. Cubitt occupied the chair, supported by Messrs. H. Martin Little, and R. H. Gaskin, directors, Mr. T. E. Trueman, general manager; Mr. A. W. Studd, secretary, and shareholders representing 5,587 shares.

The chairman's speech follows:

"Gentlemen, it is now the hour for which this meeting was called, there is a quorum present, and I will ask the Secretary to read the notice convening the meeting and the auditors' report."

This being done, Mr. Cubitt continued:

"The report and accounts for the year ended February 28, 1921, have been circulated to shareholders, and with your permission I will dispense with reading them now.

"The year under review has been a record one both for volume of business, and results, it also constitutes a record in that; it is the first time your directors do not recommend the payment of a dividend, the reasons for which I will refer to later.

"The increase and development of your business has not been confined to any particular department but has been proportionately shared by all, thus showing that in all classes of merchandise which we stock, we have been successful in obtaining our share of the local demand.

"The year 1920 must, I think, be regarded as a remarkable one for retail business. The enormous increase in productive cost of practically every commodity, combined with the effect upon our local currency, of the great fluctuation in the value of silver, have rendered it no easy problem to meet the demand at reasonable prices. That we have succeeded in this respect is evidenced by the increased business we have done. The re-arrangement of the departments on the ground floor, made possibly by taking in No. 32A Nanking Road, has also proved to be beneficial by providing increased facilities for keeping and displaying stock, and by adding to the convenience and comfort of our customers.

"The accounts set forth our position clearly, but I will add a few words of explanation regarding some of the items therein. Under the heading of liabilities it will be noticed that our overdraft with the bank is $118,039.25 more than in 1920, and Sundry Creditors, which is made up largely of unexpired bills, $306,469.53 more than in 1920, but large as these items are they are more than balanced by the corresponding items under Assets, Stocks and Sundry Debtors, which together total $1,183,720.75 or an increase of $10,939.88 more than the increase in Overdraft and Sundry Creditors.

"The heavy stocks are made up largely of goods which to replace today would cost considerably more. For two or three years orders were only accepted for delivery when possible and at prices ruling at date of shipment, it therefore became necessary to order more than normal quantities or we could not possibly have met the demand, then suddenly and without warning, the slump in trade came at home, and suppliers were only too eager to turn their attention to orders which had been previously shelved, and being given without the option of spreading deliveries over a suitable period, we were advised that this enormous quantity of cargo was on the way.

"This, gentlemen, provides the reason for your directors not recommending the payment of a dividend, while it is necessary to finance such a large stock. If however, the overdraft with the bank can be reduced to a reasonably low figure, it may be possible to pay an interim dividend during the current financial year.

"Under Property Land and Buildings there has been added B. C. Lot 6115 and three-storeyed godown opposite to our factory on North Fokien Road. For two years this godown had been rented, and when it came into the market with the possibility of our being turned out, your directors deemed it advisable to capitalise our rent by purchasing the land and building.

"The amount shown for additions to B. C. Lot 52 represents the increased accommodation for the store, already alluded to, which also involved a considerable expenditure in Fixtures and Fittings. Since the company was formed we have spent over fittings in Shanghai and have $69,000.00 on fixtures and written off over $34,000.00, so that the value at which this account now stands in our books represents only the fixtures and fittings added since 1916.

"The figure at which our property stands is considerably below its present value, so that it is not considered necessary to reduce much more the book value of the buildings. I may now add that since the accounts were published, one of your directors, Mr. R. McE. Dalgliesh resigned his seat on the board because of his departure from Shanghai. Mr. H. Martin Little has been invited to fill the vacancy, and you will be asked later to confirm this.

"Although your directors are unable to recommend the payment of a dividend, they are sure you will agree with them that it should not deprive our very capable staff of a bonus after such an excellent year's work. I am sure the shareholders and a large proportion of the general public appreciate the courtesy which is always shown to customers, and without which we could not have attained the good result shown by the accounts.

"I will now propose the first resolution, 'That the report and accounts as presented be passed.' Before putting the resolution to the meeting, I shall be glad to answer any questions to the best of my ability.

"If there are no questions, I will put the first resolution to the meeting."

The following resolutions were then passed:

(1).—That the Report and Accounts as presented be passed. —Proposed by Mr. L. J. Cubitt, seconded by Mr. R. H. Gaskin.

(2).—That the available balance be disposed of as follows:

Write off Buildings ..	$10,000.00
Place to Reserve	10,000.00
Place to Stock Reserve	30,000.00
Carry forward to New Account	52,132.49
	$102,132.49

Proposed by Mr. L. J. Cubitt, seconded by Mr. R. H. Gaskin.

(3).—That Mr. L. J. Cubitt be re-elected a director.—Proposed by Mr. A. K. Craddock, seconded by Mr. Clarance H. Butler.

(4).—That Mr. H. Martin Little be elected a director.—Proposed by Mr. James Tippin, seconded by Mr. John Cromarty.

(5).—That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be re-elected auditors of the company at an annual remuneration of $600.00. —Proposed by Mr. A. K. Craddock, seconded by Mr. K. McKelvie.

(6).—That a sum not exceeding 10% of the total amount of the annual salaries of the foreign staff of the company, be placed at the disposal of the directors for distribution by them at their discretion to the members of the foreign staff.—Proposed by Mr. Leslie J. Cubitt, seconded by Mr. James Tippin.

(7).—That in extension of the powers of borrowing and raising money conferred by Clause 58 of the Articles of Association and by all previous general meetings the directors be and they are hereby authorised to create and issue debentures of the company for securing principal sums not exceeding at any one time Taels six hundred thousand, Shanghai Sycee, and carrying interest at such rate and secured in such manner as the directors think fit. —Proposed by Mr. L. J. Cubitt, seconded by Mr. H. H. Fowler.

El-Tour Concert

A delightful program of French, English and Russian songs featured the farewell concert of Mlle. Anna El-Tour, given Sunday night in the Salle Des Fetes of the French municipal building. The light, birdlike quality of Mlle. El-Tour's voice suggests, in some degree at least, the tones of Mme. Amelita Galli-Curci.

The artiste chose her program wisely, selecting only old ballads chansons, and folk-songs that showed her voice to its best advantage, omitting the heavier operatic numbers and songs especially suited to voices with volume. That she is capable, however, of putting somewhat more force into her singing was indicated by her imitation of hoarse tones in the old Irish ballad, "Jack the Ploughboy." Of the numbers in English, "Robin Adair" and "You'll Be Coming Back" were perhaps the most enthusiastically received.

The French phase of the program consisted chiefly of ballads written two or three centuries ago, concluding, for the sake of contrast, with "La Mandoline" and "Chevaux de Bois" by Debussy. Mlle. El Tour concluded the program by a group of Russian songs, including a Tchaikowsky number and three appealing songs for children. Professor Josef Yasser played the accompaniments.

Mlle. El-Tour is planning to leave shortly for Manila, but will probably visit Shanghai again in the fall. Her voice was a genuine surprise to most of the audience, and it is to be hoped that many more of the city's music lovers will take advantage of the opportunity to hear when she returns in the fall.

IDLE STEAMERS IN JAPAN REACH 7.7 PERCENT

Total Of 135 Vessels Not In Use In Japan With Closing Of April's Traffic

Tokio, May 14.—Of the total mercantile tonnage in this country, 7.7 percent is tied up, according to investigations made at the end of April. The tied-up vessels number 135, totalling 242,770 tons gross, excluding ships of less than 100tons each. This tonnage is 7.7 percent of the present total tonnage of the country's mercantile fleet, which amount to 3,150,000 tons.

The April figures, compared with those for March, show a decrease of 27 in number and an increase of 3,500 tons. This is due to the increased laying up of larger ships, coupled with the release of some of smaller craft. For some time past the coasting and near-sea trades have been comparatively favorable, and this has somewhat decreased the number of tied-up small ships. On the other hand, the ocean trade continues depressed, and there is increased tied-up tonnage in large craft.

The vessels tied up at the end of April consisted of 27 steamers of between 100 and 500 tons, totalling 9,617 tons gross (14,000 tons deadweight); 49 steamers of between 500 and 1,000 tons, totalling 38,443 tons gross (57,000 tons deadweight), and 59 steamers of over 1,000 tons totalling 194,710 tons gross (294,000 tons deadweight). Particulars of the classification follow:

Steel, over 1,000 tons	51	192,491
Wooden, over 1,000 tons	2	2,219
Steel, 500-1,000 tons	5	4,125
Wooden, 500-1,000 tons	44	34,318
Wooden, 100-500 tons	27	9,617
Total	135	242,770

RECORD GOES TO JAPANESE IN MILE RUN

Okazaki Travels In 4.40, Making New Far East Mark

ISLANDERS BEST

Philippines Sends 28 To Finals; Japan, 11; China But Six

A well balanced team of star performers started after a Far Eastern Track and Field championship for the Philippine Islands yesterday under conditions which were just the opposite to what Filipino athletes desire and are supposed to require. Showing strength in all departments except the lone distance event of the day—the mile run—the Philippine Islands qualified 28 men in nine events against Japan's 11 and China's six. In the hurdles, seven Filipinos qualified, the Islanders getting all four men into the final of the lows. They also qualified four in the short dash and the quarter, three in the 220 yard dash, high hurdles, broad jump and discus and two each in the high jump and the shot put.

The outstanding performance of the drizzly afternoon was the running of Okazaki in the mile—an event in which the Japanese impressively took all three places. By far the best miler ever seen in a Far Eastern Olympic the lad reeled off the four laps in four minutes and 40 seconds with speed, style and power, winning by 50 yards. If he is pushed in the open internationals he is good for much better time. The previous record was held by Ikuta, Japan, and was 12 3/5 slower than the mile run by Okazaki yesterday.

The Japanese ran the race unusually well, too, the star trio, Okazaki, Yoda and Yamaichi laying low until nearly three laps had been run with Yoshioka setting a furious pace and killing off the Chinese and Filipinos. Incidentally the race was a disappointment to China's supporters for Lou Huang-yin, the Fuhtan crack, was expected to show. The two Chinese entered—Lou and Tsou Hsi followed the four Japanese in, Tsou finishing nearly 100 yards behing Okazaki. The Filipinos were not expected to place.

In the hurdles and dashes, including the quarter, the Filipinos were strong while they showed greater strength in the field events than any previous Filipino team.

Catalon and Castillon, the premier Filipino sprinters, should beat Kaga, Japan's best, today with Pascal of the Philippines probably beating H. D. Szi of St. John's University.

Finals in all events except the pentathlon, decathlon and 25 mile marathon will be run this afternoon and with warm weather and a faster track, several records should be sent far into the discard.

The times made yesterday are no criterion of what may come today although Catalon's 10 1/5 seconds in the hundred gives promise of something better on a faster track. The quarter was slower than anticipated because of the rain while Okazaki could cut five or six seconds off his 4:40 and still win by 50 yards had the cinders been hard and the sun hot.

Rain up to an early hour this morning will mean that the sun must shine in all its well-known glory this morning and afternoon if more records are to go. But a fast track will bring new marks.

There were several upsets yesterday—that is figuring on the press notices and ante-games dope. China's milers were beaten as badly as China's baseball team. Dizon, the best hurdler the Philippines has ever seen, failed to place in the lows and Coscolluela, who has thrown the discus over 120 feet in Manila, fouled three times yesterday, Tu Jung-tang of China tossed the platter a foot farther than Nicolas and Mendoza of the Philippines.

On their showing yesterday the Filipinos should finish up the job of taking the meet today although it is pretty hard to tell how well the boys from the Islands will stand the weather. They are accustomed to hot plus weather and a track which steams. Today it is liable to be rainy and cold—that is cold from the Manila standpoint.

Kaga is Japan's lone bet in the sprint and he will show better in the 220 than in the shorter dash as he was beaten by Castillon, the Philippines' second best, yester-

CONTESTS FORCE EAST'S EMOTIONS TO BUBBLE OVER

Oriental Stoicism Gives Way To War Whoops At Hongkew Park

BY ELSIE McCORMICK

The person who first promulgated the fiction that Chinese and Japanese are a stoical, undemonstrative race, never saw them at an international baseball game with two strikes and the bases full or at a track-meet where two runners threaten to break the tape at the same time. At the first session of the Far Eastern Olympic yesterday, they were about as unemotional and self-contained as a Neapolitan just after a high wind has blown down a clothes-line full of fresh macaroni.

If some of the Chinese sages could have used their influence to get a round-trip ticket from the Beyond with stop-over privileges during the Olympic, they would have been the most surprised ghosts that ever tilted a table-leg. When they left China for less substantial lands, scholars were gentlemen ethereally pale, who never engaged in any recreation more strenuous than moving chessmen or promoting a locust fight. Yesterday at Hongkew Park, a section of the local Chinese intelligentsia were engaged in striking at a small ball with bats or a large one with their feet, while the rest of them were draped gracefully around the side-lines, making remarks about the imminent decease of the umpire.

Despite a tantalising drizzle that blew around in all directions like the spray of Niagara Falls, a crowd that numbered about ten thousand lined the fields and elbowed each other in the grand-stands until the last ball was batted, the last goal made, and the last spiked shoe wrote its autograph on the cinder-track. Not more than two percent of the spectators were foreigners, and a considerable proportion of these had some official connection with the meet. Everything about the affair, from the rooting to the umbrellas, was primarily Far Eastern. Only the games were Western importations.

SPECTATORS ON RUN

Though the track events were most popular in point of attendance, a number of the spectators spent the afternoon rotating on the run among the three chief attractions. The

CHINA LOSES TO JAPAN'S NINE BY A SCORE OF 15-1

Rain Makes Ball Too Wet For Pitching, Catching Or Hitting

ERRORS ARE NUMEROUS

Game Called In Seventh When Further Play Became Impossible

China was swamped in yesterday's opening game of the Olympic baseball series, by the team representing Japan.—Swamped not only with a misty rain, a wet field and a wetter ball, but also with base hits and runs. They were saved from a shutout however, by the fact that Utsumi, the Nipponese pitcher was a bit swamped himself. He forced one lonesome tally over in the seventh through inability to control the soggy ball. The score was 15 to 1.

The game showed nothing of the relative abilities of the two teams. Both showed well in spots, but real baseball was out of the question. The twirlers couldn't control the slipery ball; the backstops couldn't catch it; the batsmen couldn't push it through the sodden grass, and the fielders couldn't stop them.

China had a team out that looked like ball players. But they lacked the knack of hitting. Up until the final inning they had registered but one scratch safety, a Texas Leaguer over shortstop by Yang. The Japs, on the other hand met the ball frequently and for good length raps. Their fourteen hits however were due in part to the slow fielding attendant upon the wet field.

Pitching was a mere matter of control. With a ball that slipped out the fingers at every snap, there was no chance for fancy curvings. Both men were working straight balls, and hoping hard that they would pass the pan somewhere within reach of the catcher. Utsumi seemed to have the edge. The Chinese boys couldn't get their eyes on the ball.

The Japanese players looked like seasoned well trained men, while the Chinese looked like a newly gathered together bunch of clever youngsters. The latter might give the Japs a hard tussle by individual brilliant playing, provided they could bat. If today is half way dry they will show their true worth against the Filipino nine.

Baseball yesterday was not a game to enthuse over. Wild pitches, passed balls, loggy singles that clipped through the wet grass like the back fin of a racing shark; fumbles, muffs and wild throws soon spoiled the interest of the fans. Had there not been a Far Eastern championship resting on the result not a dozen would have seen it through. As it was the crowd melted to one third as soon as Japan had piled up a commanding lead.

Discounting bad throws, errors due to slippery ball, passed balls and other misplays consequent upon the bad playing conditions Japan earned four runs. Their two tallies in the third were helped along by Kagayama beating out a bunt delayed in the wet grass, two wild throws and a passed ball. In the fourth a walk, a good-enough single lost in the crowd in short right field and stretched into a triple and a muff of a throw by Mung cantributed to the scoring.

Two walks in the fifth followed by two hits resulted in two runs. In the sixth baseball became impossible. Mung at second muffed three throws; Yang threw one away over first; Yong let one by him to the stands and another throw Tyau to Pung went out of the lot when Kagayama collided with the baseman in his scramble back to safety.

In the last inning each pitcher walked two men. Utsumi forcing over one run for China. Three dropped or muffed balls, and one wild pitch accounted for the last three runs. The lone single of the inning didn't score a thing, though the man who got his base on the hit eventually tallied on a dropped fly in center.

The detailed play follows:

First Inning

Japan.— Kagayama walked. Utsumi flied out to left, Miyaki got first when Yang forced Kagayama at second. Mori flied out to Mung. No runs; no hits.

China—W. Yang fanned. Tyau flied out to Utsumi. Yong walked but was caught trying to steal, Igawa to Suzuki. No runs; no hits.

Second Inning.

Japan—Sugai flied out to Ning. Suzuki went out Tyau to Ysai. Tatsuma flied out to Ysai. No runs; no hits.

China—Pung fanned. Tsai walked, but was caught attempting a

FIRST ROUND OF TENNIS SINGLES THIS AFTERNOON

Fargas Plays Ng; Tanaka vs. Tyau; Okumura Will Meet Aragon

DRAW MADE FOR OPENS

Best Match This Afternoon Is Between Chinese And Filipino Champs

BY W. S. A. POTT

Owing to the rain yesterday, there was no tennis at Hongkew Park, but today, if the weather and grounds permit, the following singles matches will be played at 3 o'clock sharp:

S. K. Ng (China) vs. Fargas (P.I.)
Tanaka (Japan) vs. Tyau (China)
Aragon (P.I.) vs. Okumura (Japan)

The match between Ng, Hongkong's star player, and Fargas, the first string player of the Philippines, will be the match of the day, and should produce as good tennis as has been in Shanghai. These two players are the best among the contingents from the Eastern countries, and it is impossible to predict the outcome. Fargas is a harder hitter, but a soft court will be in Ng's favor, for he will probably rely on his troublesome chop stroke.

If there is time after the singles matches, there will be a double between Ng and Wei (China) and Asano and Kitagawa (Japan).

OPEN TOURNAMENT

The draw for the open singles and open doubles is as follows:

All matches in the open tourneys up to the semi-finals will be the best of three sets.

Competitors are urged to secure their own umpires, but if this is impossible, the committee will try to provide them.

The Wright and Ditson ball will be used.

Two Basketball Games Scheduled For Play Today

Yesterday's Postponed Match Set For 11 O'clock This Morning

The basketball game which was scheduled for 5 p.m. yesterday between China and the Philippines and postponed because of rain will, if weather permits, be played at the Hongkew field at 11 o'clock this morning, and the second contest slated for 5 p.m. today between Japan and the Philippines will be played on time.

Should rain prevent the playing of either of today's games a new schedule of play for the three teams entered will be given out. If at all possible it is desired to play the basketball contests in the open, though should wet weather continue it may be that the game will be taken indoors.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Philippines 3, Japan 1.

VOLLEYBALL
Philippines defeated Japan 21-4, 21-0.

Philippines Swimming Team

The Philippine Islands swimming team contributed one of the early surprises of the Far Eastern games last night when 10 men were qualified. Japan, with 14 men set for the finals is a better aggregation. China failed to qualify a single man.

Chinese Aquatic Men Disappoint, Failing To Get Into Finals Of Any Events; Big Crowd Sees Trial Heats

The first evening of the Far Eastern Swimming Championships saw a well filled house at the Municipal Bath in spite of the rain. Some excellent races were witnessed and in many cases good times done. Thus Onoda's 62 3/5 for the 100 yards was fast, the best the Philippines could put up against this being Ong Sing Guan's 65 1/5.

In the 220 yards breast stroke no one came near Fernandez's former performance of 3m. 16 2/5s. though Ishida and Vizconde both did 3m. 29s. last night.

Three heats of the 440 yards took a long time and it was difficult to understand why over such a distance only four were put in a heat, though in the 50 yards swim as many as six were swum in one heat—this should have been just the reverse.

In the 440 yards Japan won 2 first in the heats, Onoda clocking 6. 24 1/5 and Matsuzawa doing 6.25 3/5 against Calvo's 6.28 3/5.

The last distance on the card was the 50 yards, and here Japan qualified 3 men and the Philippines a like number. Japan's showing in the 440 yards was specially good, as she qualified five out of six men for the final, winning both first and second in the two fastest heats.

The detailed results follow:

FAR EASTERN GAMES BEGIN UNDER WEATHER HANDICAP BUT THE CROWD IS THERE

Nearly 10,000 Brave Wet To Witness Opening Of Olympic Program At Hongkew Park; Athletes Also Sneer At Rain And Provide Excitement In Preliminary Events

With the Weather Clerk acting as a handicapping committee of one the Far Eastern Games got damply under way at Hongkew Park yesterday afternoon and a crowd which probably ran to nearly the 10,000 figure, mackintoshed, umbrellaed or merely soaked, was on hand to see the Orient's athletic classic ushered in.

The most eloquent commentary to be made on the interest which the meet holds is the simple report that the crowd stayed until the last item of the preliminary program had been checked off on the official records.

The sweeping screen of mist and drizzle, which continued throughout the afternoon, and which threatened every now and then to develop the proportions of a downright downpour, washed much of the color out of the opening ceremonies, besides slowing down and otherwise penalising the contestants in many of the events. Silk hats, which were numerous among the official groups and also in some sections of the stands, grew waterlogged and lustreless as the day wore on and the wet continued. Banners and strings of pennants drooped dispiritedly. Boy Scouts on boundary duty humped their shoulders and pulled their broad-brimmed hats closer over their eyes. Athletes sloshed about on the soggy turf at their various endeavors, or huddled beneath blanket or raincoat awaiting their turns. And in the stands or crowded many deep about the playing fields the onlooking throng wiped the rain from its collective face and clutched at an ever diminishing hope for a let-up—but continued steadfastly to onlook.

Thus was the soured and altogether reprehensible party who deals out the weather hereabouts—who has proved time and again his animosity toward sports—defeated of his purpose, and it is to be hoped that in his chagrin he will go into seclusion somewhere and give the sun a chance today. For despite rain, wind and a falling thermometer the participants in the games went into the competitions with a vim defying the conditions and produotive of exciting contests and good results and the crowd, for the most part, was as enthusiastic and noisy as though a rivulet of chill water down the back was the prime requisite for a spectator's enjoyment.

The games opened at 2:30 o'clock with an impressive parade of contestants, officials, Boy Scouts and school children. The band of Soochow University led the procession into the oval before the grand stand, followed by the Far Eastern Games Committeemen, honorary guests, officials and judges.

The Filipino team, in its several divisions, was first of the representations of athletes to march onto the field and received a tremendous ovation. They were followed by the Japanese team, on whose advent before the stands the thousands of Japanese spectators rose and delivered themselves of a mighty "Banzai!" The Chinese contestants drew a reception no less enthusiastic and 3,000 Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and school children in costume who swung with military precision into massed formation behind the principals in the games came in for a continuous outburst of applause.

When all these forces had been marshalled the field presented a spectacle which even the sweeping guests of rain were unable effectually to dim. In front were the flags of the countries participating in the meeting, with their representatives, garbed in track suits or uniform, aligned behind the banners. Boy Scouts in khaki and blue, Girl Guides in costumes the freshness of which still held out against the wet and some two thousand school boys in white jackets, trousers and white hats filled the rest of the arena in serried ranks.

OFFICIALS GIVE WELCOME

When all had come to a pause the officials mounted a platform facing the field and delivered their addresses of welcome to the men about to compete.

Dr. C. T. Wang, chairman of the Contest Committee, voiced the gratification of the officials over the spirit shown by both athletes and spectators in the face of the weather conditions and went on to refer to the benefits in physical improvement and in closer international relations as well which the Olympiad idea must bring to the countries involved.

Speaking as the official representative of the Premier, Mr. C. F. Hsu, Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, gave hearty welcome to the visitors and also stressed the development of closer national friendship in a speech which will be found printed in another column. Mr. C. A. Hsieh, representing General Chih Hsieh-yuan, Military Governor of this province, also welcomed the competitors and praised the purpose and possibilities of the Far Eastern Games. His speech too will be found printed elsewhere. Other speakers were Mr. J. Kano, representative of the International Olympic Committee, who expressed the pleasure he would have in reporting on the Far Eastern contests to his own committee, Mr. Camilio Osias, of the Philippines delegation, who spoke eloquently of the time when athletes from the East will join with their brothers of the West in the World Olympic contests and will be drawn closer together thereby. Mr. S. Kishi, chairman of the Japanese Contest Committee, thanked the Chinese officials for the cordial reception given the visiting delegations and for the excellence of the arrangements and likewise took up the theme of improved international relationships and the continued development of Far Eastern athletics.

SCHOOLBOYS' DRILL

With the conclusion of the speaking the schoolboys took the center of the stage, going through an effectively spectacular program of calesthenics and games which lasted fully half-an-hour. Under the direction of a leader mounted upon the announcer's platform the regiment of white clad figures swayed and postured and moved to and fro with a precision of action which brought cheer after cheer from the stands. Concluding with an intricate serpentine march they fell into ranks once more and moved off the field to give place to the sprinters awaiting to dash away in the preliminary heats of the first track events.

During the time of these manoeuvers the baseball and football men had gone into action on other sections of the grounds.

And in the meantime it rained. And afterward it rained. It was still raining when this account went to press, and the weather predictor says that it's going to rain some more today. But here's hoping that his ouiji board is working backward.

Premier And Military Governor In Greetings To Visiting Athletes

The following speech was delivered by Mr. C. F. Hsu, Special Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, representing Premier Chin Yun-peng:

"It is my special privilege and genuine pleasure to participate at the opening ceremony of the Fifth Far Eastern Championship Games on behalf of the Premier. The purpose of the Far Eastern Championship Games is to encourage the young men of the Far East to prepare themselves for the World's Olympic Games. The effort is most commendable.

"As the old saying goes, A sound mind goes with a sound body. Today you are gathered together to exhibit by competition the manly arts in which you have long been training. This is sufficient to arouse general interest in physical culture.

"Doubtless you are all aware that the contest today is not a mere competition among the athletes for individual honors, but a competition to elevate the standard of athletics and bring it in line with the records of the world. Gentlemen of the teams, you are all men of high intelligence and culture. It is needless for me to discuss in length the matter of sportsmanship.

"I am indeed sensible of the honor and privilege in extending to you today the greetings of the Government on behalf of the Premier. I trust that in the contests which are to follow this program, you will exert your well-directed energies, establish historical records and crown yourselves with success when the day comes for you to compete in the World's Olympic Games."

On behalf of His Excellency Chi Hsueh-yuan, Military Governor of Kiangsu, Mr. C. A. Hsieh made the following address of welcome to the athletes:

"On this opening day of the Fifth Far Eastern Championship Games in Shanghai, we are happy to see that we are honored by the presence of many distinguish-

Baer: SAYS "BUGS"

LET US HAVE THE TRUTH AT LAST

That's Where It Belongs; Let Us Always Have It Last

BY 'BUGS' BAER

Sports Editor:

I've been reading your articles on Gink Fowler, and he could not swing a towel to the bird we had in Homicide, Illinois. His name was Specks Rasberry. Specks because he always wore glasses in the ring and Rasberry because of his fighting ability. His most notable fight was with Slam Lloyd. This yam was a puzzle to all who paid to see him fight. Specks was a game guy and used to take awful drummings. In this fight he stayed for sixty rounds and took everything but the nomination for Mayor of Homicide.

Slam had a heart as big as a split oat. He said he wouldn't soak any beezark who wore spectacles. In the fourteenth round he put snuff on his gloves and tapped Specks on the smelling trumpet. He started breaking the records for intercollegiate sneezing and blew off his only defense, the old pair of eye panes.

Slam was no man's clown, saw the opening, and bruised everything but Speck's sixth sense. With the aid of a blotter and a couple of putty knives they managed to get Specks back into his corner. Slam was disqualified for soaking his opponent when he was looking for his cheaters. Later they discovered the referee was Specs' manager. Specks later fought Gink Fowler and gave him a luxurious beating in 1862. They say that Gink is still filling out questionnaires for the State Board of Sanity. How about these?

G. L. WIEGAND.

Address—Brooklyn in the daytime. New York at night.

Let a man reach the pinnacle of success and immediately the scoreskulls pick on him like minnows snapping at wet bread. No sooner does a champion grab off the poisoned laurels than jealousy breaks out like measles in an orphan asylum. Specks never beat Gink Fowler, because on the night they fought, Gink—well, here are the facts.

This is an absolutely non-partisan view of the fight, as seen by Jerry Greezeball, the most prominent astigmatic expert then looking at sports from the wrong angle.

Gink Fowler came from the first families of Roughtown, then known as the Capital of the Underworld. He was a rough-haired young man and was often complimented by the warden for his good behavior. He had all his laundry done rough dry. His mother-in-law was known for her sweeping, cooking and domestic ability. Gink often said she was the best roughhouse-keeper he ever saw.

RIVAL IN LOVE

There was another bar roach in town who was Gink's rival in love. He was the owner of the Cowardly Laundry. Gink was 'fraid of nothing, but he had to have his collars rough and dry. He sent his wash to the Cowardly Laundry and his cuff and collar came back frayed. That was the reason they called it the Cowardly Laundry. Everything came back frayed. They would turn the Koh-i-noor yellow in that place. They were the inventors of the six-piece handkerchief and the Kum-Apart sox. After your shirt came back from a tour of the mangler it was all buttonholes. You needed seventeen collar buttons in front and a million in back.

Gink was the guy who invented the saw. He had just grabbed his collar back from the Cowardly Laundry, when his grandmom asked him to nibble at the woodpile with an axe. At the first whack the axehead abandoned the axehandle and flew thirty miles through the air. It landed in Homicide, where it ruined the most perfect swamp in the history of the world's progress.

Gink had an idea, took off his collar, put a handle on it, and sawed the wood. That's fact. Are we right or ain't you listening? Hard work like this gave Gink the most wonderful Morris chair muscles you ever saw. He holds all records for lounging in the lobby, loitering on the divan and cluttering up the sofa.

SLUGS TWO GUARDS

He hung around Roughtown transiently until one day the citizens appropriated enough rope to make the hanging permanent. On the night he was supposed to fight Specks, he was busy eating his way through a flimsy granite wall, about four feet thick. He was a tough guy. He wore his teeth down to the pink on the first two feet of stone. He finished the job on his gums.

Could anybody beat a man like that? He beat up two dozen guards, banged his wife over the head with a baseball bat, mobbed all the cops, kicked over the statue of Jesse James and left town on the non-taxable end of a fast freight. Tears were limping down his face as he said "Enough" to Roughtown. It broke his heart to go and leave civilization behind.

Clay Pigeon Club Has Ladies' Day

On Sunday afternoon the first shoot of the Shanghai Clay Pigeon Club season took place, the occasion being made a ladies' day. With excellent weather there was a large attendance of both visitors and competitors.

In the nature of a practice shoot the day opened with a single barrel 10 bird sweep which was won by Mr. J. W. Gande, who broke 8, plus handicap 1¼.

The competition for the "President's" Cup then followed, the conditions being 40 birds, two barrels allowed, and handicaps based on last season's average.

This event was won by Mr. K. J. McEuen (shooting for Mrs. G. E. Tucker) with a score of 39½ (33 breaks plus 6½ handicap) Mr. A. P. Nazer (for Mrs. G. E. Griffin) being second with 35 breaks plus 3 handicap, and Mr. W. J. Gande (for Mrs. A. A. Brady) third with 33 breaks plus 5 handicap.

The following were the scores:

K. J. McEuen, 33 plus 6½—39½.

A. P. Nazer, 35 plus 3—38.

W. J. Gande, 33 plus 5—38.

A. W. Hexamer, 35 plus 2—37.

W. Beatty, 32 plus 5—37.

H. H. Read, 35 plus 1½—36½.

T. E. Doremus, 34 plus 1¾—35¾.

Hendrickson, 29 plus 3½—32½.

E. H. Himrod, 27 plus 5½—32½.

A. E. Algar, 28 plus 3—31.

C. I. Dell 'Oro, 24 plus 6¼—30¼.

F. W. Henderson, 22 plus 6—28.

H. N. Weinberg, 21 plus 7—28

E. A. Prince, 18 plus 8½—26½.

I. Tuxford, 18 plus 7½—25½

T. H. U. Aldridge, 20 plus 5—25.

N. E. Moller, 11 plus 2—13.

Mr. Ambrose, the President of the Club, in a few well chosen words welcomed the ladies and presented them with their prize, also Mr. McEuen the Cup, and Mr. Hexamer a specially presented cup for making the first to single barrel breaks of the season.

Altogether a very enjoyable afternoon was spent. Since the annual general meeting the members of the late Shanghai Gun Club have donated their remaining funds amounting to approximately $2,000 to the new Club and as the members of the old Clay Pigeon Club intend following the same step, the present Club will have ample funds in hand in the future.

In view of the above, it has been decided that old members both the old Clubs are eligible to become members of the new club without payment of entrance fee.

Philippines Team Figured To Take Track, Field Meet

day. But Kaga won his 220 in 23 4/5 seconds.

The low hurdles will bring out Abiera, Bucoy, Escamos and Kattell, all from the Philippines, and they should finish today in the order named. Watanabe of Japan was beaten in the high hurdles yesterday by Fernandez in 16 4/5 seconds while Amad of the Philippines won his semi-final a full second slower. Fernandez was swimming last night and has always been beaten by Amad in Manila so that today's race is wide open in the air. And Watanabe is cleaner and more finished than any of the Filipinos. Fernandez goes over the sticks miles too high.

Danao should win the quarter with Malinao and Lopes finishing well up. Sumikawa and Kato are the Japanese entrants.

China has a good chance to get two of the three places in the high jump, Yuan Ching-hsiang and Wu Yen-tsong fighting it out with Zorilla. Ico, the record holder, failed to qualify. The broad jump may also give China a chance although Kozawa of Japan, and Machan and Rivera of the Philippines have done better than 22 feet. The best jump yesterday was 21 feet, one inch and this was by Santos, a Filipino. Wong Yi-wu was China's best.

Lucas of the Philippines was credited with a new record in the shot put yesterday and the announcer said that all five men qualifying — Lucas, Nakamura Masuda, Tu Jung-tang and Alo—broke the present record. The record, 37 feet 4 1/4 inches, was made with a 16 pound shot by Alvarez at the Manila games two years ago and the mark for the 12 pound shot, which was used yesterday, is still held by Dr. Regino Ylanan. It is 44 feet 11 1/2 inches.

To those who are going to the track meet this afternoon just a word. In addition to the men mentioned above watch Okazaki and Yamaichi of Japan, Chang Yen-fu and Tsou Hsi of China and Alcantara, Tibay and Taduran of the Philippines in the half and all the Japanese in the five-mile run.

This afternoon's events will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Contests Force East's Emotions

law of physics which says that the same body cannot be in more than one place at a time was cheerfully repealed by enthusiasts determined to miss no tricks in any of the three rings. If somebody with a stop-watch could have been spared from the main events, he probably would have found more records broken between the baseball diamond and the football field than by the athletes on the cindertrack.

Though there was no organised rooting in the American sense, a merry melange of banzais and ai-yahs and tukboos spread over the atmosphere at appropriate points in the games. Over at the baseball field, a Chinese in a silk petticoat implored each Celestial batter through a paper megaphone to take his time and knock one over the grandstand.

Then there was a step-brother of Poe's Raven, also clad in conservative Chinese style, who croaked "No can! No can!" with mournful persistency every time a fellow-countryman struck at empty air. The Nipponese rooters vociferously cheered China's errors as well as their own good plays, though somehow there seemed to be no tendency to carry the contest into the grandstand.

Taking it altogether, the setting lacked numerous features of an American baseball game. One missed the gentle flutter of programs and peanut shells from the bleachers and the more determined rain of pop bottles about the person of the umpire. One looked in vain for the gentleman who, at a good play by the home team, absent-mindedly caves in his neighbor's hat with a rolled-up Sunday paper, or the bevy of organie-clad girls who keep Baba Ruth's picture on their bureau between Douglas Fairbanks and a postcard of the court-house at Hackensack, New Jersey. There were compensations, however, in the form of sleepy Japanese babies who dozed jerkily on mother's back as she rooted for Nippon, to say nothing of Chinese children in natty blue sailor suits, trying to peek through knot-holes in the human wall, and demure school-girls, chaperoned by missionaries, who tripped daintily on the outskirts of the crowd.

CHINESE ENTHUSIASTIC

Though the Japanese seemed to predominate at the baseball diamond, Chinese were most in evidence on the football field, where Japanese and Filipinos were settling a little argument. The Chinese cheered as loudly and wholeheartedly for the Filipinos as for their own athletes, succeeding better as noise-makers than their little playmates from the northern islands. They waved their Chinese flags long after the rain had caused the red in the national colors to weep somber tears into the yellow and kept up a remarkable interest in the game considering that their countrymen were not participants.

The largest crowd of all was gathered to witness the track events. Everybody in the grandstand stood all the while for the simple reason that there was no room to sit down, and they remained in their places despite the fact that the matshed roof leaked like the Gladstone bag of a gentleman entering the United States from Canada.

Bound-foot ladies stood cheerfully beside up-to-date Western clothes and college pamadours, while among the Japanese contingent kimonos of both denominations formed a contrast to frock coats and top hats. Not-least important among those present were energetic Japanese newspaper men who seized each winner of the f nationality as he broke the tape and thrust him, still panting, before a battery of cameras.

But all seriousness aside, when ten thousand people of the Far East turn out in the rain to see a football skirmish, a track meet and a baseball [illegible] means that some radically new spirit has swept over the Hills of Han since the days when the most popular recreation was inscribing poems on silk. Whether the change has been for better or for worse depends upon the temperament of the spectative.

About The Game

SOGGY baseballs, wet bats and hands and grass and everything do not make for Big League Baseball.

WATER polo would have been more appropriate to the going. And the fans—they stuck it bravely. At least long enough to see Who's Who.

A CROWD of Amahs and other Kimono-clad folk settled in armchairs in short right field at the beginning of the game and helped Tatsuma stretch a fair-enough single into a three-bagger.

MORI and Sugai, each of whom had gotten base on wet ball errors looked foolish in the sixth when they started to gallop home on Suzuki's little grounder to pitcher. They thought there were two out.

PUNG also showed Numata's base-running up in the last spasm when he grabbed a fast one off Kagayama's bat, made heavy "business" of throwing to first, then turned quickly and tagged out the trusting Numata.

ERRORS were all chargeable to wet playing conditions. It would have been a different game with dry going.

DON'T suppose the rules were forgotten by the Chinese. When the Nipponese tossed in a "Made in Japan" baseball in the sixth inning, China protested. "Japanese balls are unofficial" they informed Umpire McGowan, and Terry agreed with them.

AUSTRALIANS TAKE LEAD IN FIRST CONTEST

England Dismissed For 112 In Opening Innings

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 28.—The first test match between England and Australia opened at Nottingham today. The weather was showery, with intermittent breaks of sunshine drying the wicket. The result was the bowlers had it all their own way.

England won the toss and elected to bat. After a disastrous start, three wickets falling for 18 runs, the Home side were dismissed for 112, to which Holmes contributed a careful 30, and Woolley 20.

Gregory took six wickets for 53 runs and Macdonald three for 42, the latter putting the ball down at a tremendous pace. The fielding was superb.

The Australians then went in but fared little better, having lost six wickets for 167 runs, when stumps were drawn. Bardsley gave a fine display, making 66 without giving a single chance.

Twenty-one thousand spectators watched the match.

BY "WHISTLE"

S.C.C. vs. Hongkong, A.

With Hongkong's total for 1st inning at 219 and the Club 75 for 4, this game was resumed on Sunday. Leach and Day took up the defense for the Club and put up a good stand adding 48 before the former fell a victim to Farthing being caught by Stapleton for a very useful 39. Day soon after was stumped by Franks off the same bowler for 22. Billings, Barnes and Read appeared but seemed anxious to get back to the Pavilion, Read being the only one of the three to score at all. All was not over, however, as Duthoit and Tippin got together and contributed 47 before Duthoit was bowled by Sayer making Shanghai's total 174.

Hongkong were now in a strong position and in their second venture batted very consistently. Franks and Stapleton opened and ran to 50 before they were separated. Rumjahn added 16 before Henry caught him off Tippin. Wodehouse came out and things began to move, he knocked up 49 not out, out of the 141 total and time prevented him from making a big score. Webster only contributed 7, and with D. E. Rome at 8 not out Hongkong declared for 141 for 4, leaving Shanghai 186 behind and about an hour and a half to get them in.

Hawkings and Leach started the innings, but the partnership was shortlived, the former being caught by Webster after making 8. Hayward coming in assisted Leach to keep things going, the score reaching 78 before he was caught by Sayer off Wodehouse for a valuable 23. Billings appeared, made 3 and put one up to Farthing who accepted it.

Tippin followed but had bad luck, being run out for no score. The situation looked serious enough at this stage, but Henry joining Leach, the pair saved the situation. Both started to let out, stealing runs, and forcing the game on every opportunity. Together they carried the score to 152, when Leach's fine innings finished he being stumped by Franks off Reid.

There is no doubt that Leach saved the game, and he was unfortunate in missing the century. His 90 included a couple of sixes and was a fine display of aggressive batting at the right time.

Eight more runs were added before stumps were drawn, leaving the game drawn.

Japanese Team Loser To Philippine Islands In Volleyball Match

The Japanese were no match for the Filipinos at volleyball yesterday afternoon, the Nipponese failing to score in the second game and making but four points in the first. Japan and China play this afternoon at 5 o'clock and on paper the Chinese should win which means a repetition of what happened two years ago at Manila when China and the Philippines fought in the final for the volleyball title.

Olympic Items

The Chinese athletes, officials and leaders of the Japanese and Filipino delegations will be guests of the Shanghai Newspapers Association at a reception to be held at the Eastern corner of Foochow and Shantung roads. Time: on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Boys scout details on duty at the ground includes 113 from Foochow, 90 from Yienchen, 18 from Nanwei, 60 from Wusih, 12 from Kating, 18 from Chungking, 21 from Jukao, 15 from Kiyang and 30 from Paoshan. Local scouts number about 1,000 seven girl scouts are among the Foochow delegation.

Cantonese athletes were guests at a reception held on Sunday by the Cantonese Guild. Dr. F. C. Yong welcomed them and Mr. L. Ling-te responded.

Hongkew's entire Japanese community was out at Hongkew Park Sunday when the Japanese athletes paraded round the park headed by a band. The grand stand was filled to capacity.

Revolver Matches Set For Next Month

The Shanghai All-comers' .45 cal. revolver and pistol championships, together with the monthly competition of the Shanghai Miniature Rifle and Revolver Club, will be held at the Rifle Range during the month of June.

The naval revolver and pistol championship competition which is open to all officers and men of the American and British fleet will close on June 30th.

Conditions for the shoot provide for targets of 2-inch inner and 4-inch outer bulls-eye; weapons of any government automatic or revolver, of .45 calibre, and scores at 10 shots at 15 yards, 10 at 20 yards, and 10 at 25 yards, off hand, with no body or artificial rest.

The prizes are a gold medal for first, and silver medals for second and third.

Elcano Nine Loses Sunday's Game To Shanghai Civilians

The little old gunboat Elcano was smothered under a bombardment of base hits and runs in its game with the Shanghai Civilians on Sunday afternoon at the Race Course. The final score was 13 to 1.

The game was Shanghai's all of the way. There was no chance for mistake. The locals scored four in the third, three in the fourth, five in the fifth and then added another for luck in the well known seventh.

Elcano put out a good little team. They played errorless ball. They were trying all of the time. But free hitting cannot be denied. The score just naturally had to pile up against them.

The sailors drew first blood in the second from Stanton's triple and Moyer's bunt-sacrifice. Shanghai got to the scoring immediately thereafter. Hopkins singled, Woods walked, Bills beat out his bunt and Hoppy scored. Smith took first on his little grounder to Loper. The latter was afraid to throw it with Woods on third. Crow doubled scoring Woods, Bills and Smith. Crow was caught out at the plate.

In the fourth Devine singled, Hopkins was hit by pitcher, Woods wingled and scored them both, and then tallied himself on Bills' and Smith's outs. The five runs in the fifth came thusly: Sperry walked, Pruit singled, Griffiths beat out his tunt and Sperry scored. Devine fanned. Hopkins went out to Stanton unassisted and Pruit scored. Woods singled and Griffiths came in. Bills rapped out a homer through second and center and brought Woods home with him.

The last run was scored by Hopkins. He singled, Woods sacrificed him to second, took third on Bills out and scored while they were throwing the ball around trying to catch him napping.

Notes On Sunday's Game

ELCANO fans started the afternoon off with the usual Naval optimism. But after Bill's homer in the fifth, which counted the ninth run, they rose in a body and left the park.

A LOCAL fan called out "What's your hurry?" and others: "Stick around a while," etc, but the sailors knew when they were satisfied and they kept well on their way. It was enough.

SHANGHAI had their batting clothes on especially while Grazier was serving them up. Fourteen hits in five innings were bound to drive in some runs.

YOUNGSTERS had their chance Sunday. Sixteen Civilians figured in the play. The week end gave Wilhoit a good opportunity to try 'em all out.

PITCHING of varied sorts was served by the five twirlers performing. Shanghai men were effective and so was Brenner, but Grazier was an open book.

IN respect to Brenner, it might be said that he is the best little ball player on the gunboat. He covered short for five innings like our own Bills. Many chances were too slow for putouts but he showed that lightening speed in trying that wins a home with the fans.

COMING to the mound in the sixth he brought with him his fast "peg-to-first" delivery with no windup and he had the local sluggers stalled to the finish.

KEELEY, the rotund Navy second sacker had the fans worried for a time. They were afraid he would burst a seam or something. But he kept on playing good ball and didn't lose a button during the whole game.

INCIDENTALLY Shanghai's second sacker was playing real baseball. He batted a thousand. In five times up he singled three times, walked once, sacrificed once, scored three runs and drove in three more.

NO one could criticise Shanghai's speed on the bases. Scoring from second on singles was the rule. Smith's tally from first on Crow's double was fast and close work. Bills and Griffiths both beat out bunts.

GARBED in a wad of cotton and a lamp shade, aside from a set of "cits," Mal Maloney piked the game from the bench. The inshoot that Merrill bounced off his eyebrow Saturday has blackened and closed his eye. He will do well if he plays ball this week.

TOMORROW the contestants will be guests at a reception to be held at the Y. M. C. A. by the "Y", the Kiangsu Educational Association, the National Committee, Y. M. C. A., the Kiangsu Educational Bureau, the new Educational Association and the Vocational Educational Association. Speeches will be delivered by Dr. C. T. Wang, Dr. F. W. Kuo, Shen Mun-ching and others. There will be a musical program.

Philippines Wins Soccer Football Game From Japan

By beating Japan 3-1 in soccer football yesterday the Philippine Islands eleven figures as the only possible opponent for the crack Chinese aggregation from Hongkong and a big crowd is expected this afternoon when China and the Philippines plays at 3:30 o'clock.

Both teams were handicapped by the soft ground but the Filipinos were by far better than the Japanese. China is figured to win today's match although the Southern Chinese like a hard fast field for their quick and short passing game.

Rain Fails To Damp Enthusiasm At Start Of Far Eastern Games

ed guests. Important duties are preventing us from attending the Games in person. However, we are pleased to send as our representative, Mr. Hsieh Chuan-an our advisor, to convey to you our heartiest greetings. The Far Eastern Athletic Association has been organised for about ten years, and has provided healthy competitive games and sports for the young men of the Philippine Islands, Japan and China four different times, in Manila, Shanghai and Tokio. The excellent results of these games are known throughout the world. We have indeed great admiration and respect for the Association.

"Since the games which took place in Manila two years ago, the general trend of development in the world has been moving away from militarism and has been entering into an era of peace. The people of different countries have once more come into friendly contact with one another, and their cordial relationships are being strengthened from day to day. Especially, we the people of the Far East, because of our close proximity to each other geographically, should make a very earnest effort to intensify our friendly feelings. The different contestants have had two more years of special training and experience, and their physical strength and their bodily skill must have improved considerably. We are confident to believe, therefore, that the results of the Games at this time will far excel those of the previous Games.

"We wish to add one more word. At the Fourth Far Eastern Championship Games it was decided, we understand, that in all competitive entries, attention shall be paid to the individuals who will score points and to the total points scored for each event, which will help determine the victory of the Championship Games, and no reckoning shall be placed on a national basis. As you will thus do away with all national differences, you will not lessen at all the spirit of competition, and, at the same time you will help strengthen the ties that bind us together. If, from now on, all our efforts be bent in this direction, then the people of the Far East will begin to cherish a sincere fondness for one another and will prove in all matters to be of great mutual inspiration and help. Doubtless, this is the goal towards which all of us should strive to the best of our ability. We sincerely believe that in this noble effort for international good-will, these Far Eastern Championship Games will play a very important part. We want to avail ourselves of this opportunity to wish the Fifth Far Eastern Championship Games great success and to extend our heartiest greetings to the Far Eastern Athletic Association."

BANKS CLOSING

Bank closings four afternoons this week will give foreigners a chance to see more of the Far Eastern Games than would otherwise be possible. Wednesday is an ordinary half holiday and it was stated yesterday that in all probability the local institutions would close on Thursday and Friday afternoons as well. This, with the usual Saturday half-holiday, would cover the entire open meeting of the games.
